Town Hall Meeting on Delinquency

'Lack of Communication Leads to Delinquency'

A lack of communication between young people and adults was cited as the primary cause of juvenile delinquency by a group of experts participating in Pacifica's "Town Hall Meeting" on the problem Saturday.

Dr. Thomas Ryther, a social psychologist from San Francisco State College, said "Young people and adults today do not even derive the same meaning from the same words."

"Most juvenile problems begin in the home," he said. "Most parents are inconsistent in their directives to children, and are too critical."

Dr. Ryther also said there is a "dearth of open affection" in the modern home.

Dr. John W. Kinch, a San Francisco State College sociogist, said adults should "recognize that adolescents are a part of society, and they should have a voice in the society."

He blamed pressure to achieve exerted by parents upon their children for many personality problems.

"We must try harder to keep a lid on our conflicts," he said.

"And consider bargaining and compromising with youth."

Morgan Yamanaka, a social welfare specialist from San Francisco State, told some 600 participants in the meetings that more recreational facilities and a better public transportation system would aid in solving the city's delinquency problems.

All the specialists, including Jefferson Union High School Dist. Supt. Edward Morgan, felt the city's schools are placing too much emphasis upon college preparation and not devoting enough resources to vocational education.

Morgan said a shortage of counseling and guidance services on the elementary level is another serious drawback in the present educational system.

"Our schools should reach all the students," Morgan said. "The idea that all students should attend college is a fallacy. Our present course offerings and teaching methods must be drastically changed."

Dr. David Schartz, psychiatrist with the Mental Health Service of the San Mateo County Probation Department, emphasized theimportance of early parental training in the behavior of teen-agers.

"Most juvenile delinquents were problem children in the elementary grades," he said. Dr. Schartz recommended a program of "parental education" as the most likely aid in preventing delinquency.

A number of committees were formed during the course of the meeting, which was held at Oceana High School, and feasibility studies of the recommendations heard will be conducted by volunteers.

Other speakers on the program were Mrs. Jean Fassler, county supervisor; Neil H. Tremaine, Pacifica police chief; and Loren A. Beckley, chief probation officer for San Mateo County.

Dr. Robert Watt, principal at Oceana High School, was chairman of the meeting, and Mayor Harland Minshew gave the opening address.

The mayor and city councilmen were hosts.

Traveling Expenses Blasted

Galiano Is 'Disturbed'

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Attorney Peter T. Galiano, a trustee of the Jefferson Elementary School District, has blasted what he called "disturbing travel expenditures" within the school district.

If irregularities in travel and convention expenses by Jefferson trustees and administrators do exist, a full scale review should be conducted, Galiano told the Times, Friday.

"My neighbor is very disturbed about increasing taxes. . . . and what can I tell him?" Galiano asks.

"This type of suspicion—large or small—tends to undermine the confidence of the public in the school board and should be studied," Galiano declared.

The Daly City attorney presently is the central figure in a conflict of interest battle brought about by his fellow trustees.

Galiano claims no conflict exists and counters that the trustees are using the "conflict gimmick" to discredit him and the California Teachers Association—a past client of Galiano.

Both the administrators and trustees pooh-pooh Galiano's counter charges regarding expenditures.

Superintendent Frank Greenwood said last year's expenditures for travel and conventions within his district were substan-

Spadework on Ethics Probe Is Underway

Vigorous opposition to the forthcoming ethics probe into activities of the Jefferson Elementary School District has been registered by Supt. Frank Greenwood at a special meeting of trustees last week in Daly City.

The ethics "study" was requested by local members of the California Teachers Association (CTA) and backed by several school principals in Daly City.

Greenwood told the four trustees present at the meeeting, and three representatives of the associations responsible for setting up the investigative panel, that he was "loudly opposed" to methods employed in conducting the study.

"That isn't to say I won't cooperate by furnishing documented information," Greenwood told The Post after the meeting.

"I just don't like the 'Do you still beat your wife' sort of closed door hearings they (the panel) intend to conduct."

But the majority of trustees elected to delay a hasty decision on whether or not they will co-operate.

Chairman George G. Perry said the district would reserve its opinions on the matter until "further studies were completed."

Ben Mansell, assistant executive for personnel standards (CTA), said regardless of what course the board follows, "groundwork for the study will start right away."

Mansell, along with Dr. Jim Corson, executive secretary of the California Association of School Administrators (CASA), and Hugh Page, of the CTA's bay section, explained the system used in making the study and asked the board to co-operate with the panel.

"We have no powers of subpoena," Mansell said. "The five persons appointed to the panel may talk to as many as 132 people during a four-day review."

He said the five panelists then "go home and prepare their reports."

These reports then are sent back to the CTA, where a draft incorporating all reports is made before the panelists again are asked to check their findings. The CTA then discusses the report and recommendations with those directly involved in the matter.

"No decision regarding an issue can be acted upon until the principle involved has a chance to react," Mansell said.

Asked if the findings are kept secret and not revealed to the newspapers, Mansell said, "Sometimes."

"But, where you have a situation of great community interest, such as in the Jefferson School District, we normally make the findings public," Mansell said.

At one point during the meeting, Mansell said, "Our group is not running a popularity contest."

The ethics probe is the first for the district.

"It is sort of an open end study to clear the air," Mansell said earlier. "We do not, however, check into expenditures as such. That is out of our field."

Asked if the panel, appointed to "study" the present tense

D.C. Appoints Finance Chief

The appointment of Robert S. Hossli as Director of Finance for the City of Daly City was announced during Monday night's city council meeting by Edward Frank, city manager.

Hossli leaves the city of Santa Maria, where he served as Finance director for some three years. He was also finance director for Yuba City and has more than five years' experience in private accounting.

The 36-year-old business administration graduate of San Jose State is scheduled to assume his new duties on November 9.

Hossli fills the position vacated last July by the resignation of Joseph Arch.

The new department head will reside in Daly City with his wife and three children, Frank told the council.

Another Look At Lines in Bruno

San Bruno councilmen ordered the city's traffic safety committee to reconsider the newly inaugurated "restriping" of San Bruno Avenue at the intersection with El Camino Real Monday night, after hearing opposition from businessmen affected by the measure.

Two petitions relating to the matter were presented to the council, and several physicians and businessmen with offices in the 800 block of San Bruno Avenue appeared at the meeting to express their opposition in person.

A petition signed by 27 businessmen stated the traffic safety committee did not discuss the changes, which necessitated the elimination of parking on the street in a two-block section, "with those who were to be most inconvenienced."

Another petition protesting the elimination of street parking in front of the Beehive Letter Shop was signed by 42 customers of the establishment, operated by Katherine Quinn.

Dr. Norman Fox, part owner of the medical building at 841 San Bruno Avenue, told the council he and other physicians with offices in the building "were not consulted about this procedure, which is causing us considerable hardship."

The physicians, realtor Bill Seley and Mrs. Quinn entered several suggestions for possible alternatives to the striping, which was instituted to create an extra left-turn lane.

Their recommendations included installation of a traffic light with a left-turn arrow, utilization of temporary turn markers during rush periods, and making available "off-street

Westlake's Woolworth Is Robbed

A neatly-dressed middle-aged gunman politely instructed Woolworth employe Evelyn Peiney to "hand over all the cash and lay quietly on the floor for ten minutes" during a daylight holdup which netted more than $175 in Daly City Monday.

Miss Peiney, said the gunman had first appeared at the department store's Westlake Plaza branch office two weeks ago in search of a "bad" check his wife supposedly had written.

When he was informed no such check appeared in the store's files the man left.

Yesterday he returned, Miss Peiney told police, and again asked for the "bad check."

As she returned to the counter, the man pulled out a gun and ordered her to hand over the money.

Man Holds Compact In Contempt?

Daly City police are continuing their search today for a middle-aged man who apparently holds compact cars in complete contempt.

Sunday night the unidentified man staggered out of a bar at 2159 Junipero Serra Boulevard, and into the path of a small foreign-made compact car driven by Gene Ray Snyder of Daly City.

Witnesses said the man bounced to the pavement and rolled over as Snyder screeched his car to a stop.

Scrambling to his feet, the pedestrian, seemingly unaffected by the jolt, brushed himself off and disappeared into the darkness, leaving behind a battered fender and visibly shaken driver.

$200 This Week In Grid Event

Mike Gonzales, 542 Vera, Redwood City, a male nurse, won first prize of two tickets to the California-Stanford big game by naming 14 of 15 games correctly in the weekly Post Grid Contest.

Those who picked 13 winners included Mrs. D. Ireland of Daly City; James McDill, E. Rouquier, E. L. Fickle, Dave Rich, and Edward C. Baumgarton of San Mateo; Thomas Cowan, Keith Gordon, and F. Skoglund of Belmont; Ken Beddow and Sanniehou Kenton of San Carlos; and Bruce Schaake of Novato.

Since there was not a cash winner, this week's prize is $200 plus $50 bonus for being a home-delivered subscriber to The Times. Thursday night is entry deadline.

Callan Shopping Center Rejected

A request by Caesar Callan Homes for a 3.1-acre shopping center in Westborough was rejected by the South San Francisco Planning Commission Monday night.

Caesar Callan, developer of the huge Westborough tract, had sought rezoning of the acreage for commercial use.

City Planner Dan Pass said he felt the area was already "overcommercialized' and had recommended the commission reject the request.

The proposed center site is bordered by King Drive, Callan Boulevard and Carter Drive, adjacent to the Serramonte Subdivision in Daly City.

Presently, the property is zoned for planned community apartments.

The developer had intended to construct a service station, drive-in retail store, a medical-dental center and similar offices.

Payroll Plan Turned Down By Council

San Bruno Councilmen again denied a request from a representative of the city's union employes to withhold union dues from paychecks.

Frank Gillis, business representative for Council 57 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, Monday night made the request on behalf of Local 1569, which represents about 20 of the city's employes.

Mayor Karney Barberian restated the council's contention that the city's business machines are not adequate

New Concept in Industrial Arts Curriculum: Broader Experience for More in Less Time

Three Jefferson High School District industrial arts department heads, assisted by San Francisco State College's Dr. George Champsion, dropped an educational eye-opener into the laps of trustees Monday night.

Under direction of Louis Martin, the district's special services chief, Jefferson High's Gerald Maxwell, Terra Nova's Norman Sanden and Westmoor's Leslie Vogt spent the summer working on a "new concept" curriculum for the new Industrial Arts Center Complex, to be a part of the yet-to-be-built Serramonte High School.

Students would advance according to proficiency and interest.

The proposed curriculuim, its makers pointed out, would pave the way for greater participation by a greater number of students in less time.

It would, they added, offer students broader exposure to more "things" within the industrial arts structure.

There would be something for all levels of proficiency, it was explained, because the department would judge advancement on proficiency, rather than by time. A brighter pupil could press through the required material in possibly one semester; while the slower student might not make it in less than a full term.

Several Phases

A freshman entering Serramonte's industrial arts program would receive some nine weeks of orientation, a look at various industrial skills requirements, job opportunities and shortcomings, as well as their own aptitudes, desires and potential, it was pointed out.

Then there would be advancement to a second "scramble" stage, where classes, demonstrations and practical application of their studies would be put to work.

Perhaps up to 30 different "experience centers" would be available for up to 150 students at one time through closed-circuit television. Each student would be required to take 25 of these experiences—electrical, machines, etc.—with pronounced proficiency in at least ten.

When these minimum proficiencies are attained, the pupil would progress to other phases, such as "contract counseling" for vocational guidance, which would augment present-day academic counseling.

And the "corporation" segment, presently described as highly successful at Terra Nova High in Pacifica, would become an important part at Serramonte. There the advanced student would gain a broad experience in the many areas available when they complete high school: such things as managment, labor, plant engineering, scheduling, sales and market research.

From there, the student would go to more specialized industrial research and development or other even more advanced steps.

The program would provide each student—whether slow or bright—"to find an area in which he fits," the trustees were told. "There would be a place for every student."

In addition, at the "scramble" phase, students from other departments of interest in the high school would be allowed participation in the industrial arts program.

But they admitted the plan is not without bugaboos—at least some time-consuming and thought-inducing hurdles to hop; among those, problems of scheduling students and teachers alike; instructional planning and co-ordination, and financing, they said.

Yet, they point to several aspects—such as the orientation, corporation and special student participation—that already are working.

Woman Is Stabbed In Taxi Argument

A 33-year-old San Bruno woman is listed in "critical" condition at San Mateo County General Hospital with seven stab wounds received in an argument over a taxi-cab radio.

Police said the victim, Ruby Hoffpauir, was stabbed about the chest, neck and back in a scuffle with 75-year-old Cornelius Alexander Pyatt at 7 p m. Sunday.

Pyatt is to be arraigned today on an assault-with-a-deadly-weapon charge.

The victim and Pyatt's son, Samuel, operate the City Cab Co. in San Bruno.

The incident occurred in a vacant lot adjacent to a residence at 660 East San Bruno Avenue where the woman and the Pyatts live.

Sgt. Freitas said that, initially, the younger Pyatt and his partner were arguing over a radio in one of the cars. Cornelius Pyatt later went to the lot to assist his son.

According to police, the woman knocked down the elderly man, and he then began stabbing her. She received four wounds in the back, including one on the right side that penetrated the chest cavity and on the left side, right breast and left side of her neck.

Sgt. Armand Garbarino and officers Norman Dunham and Joseph Kosiba conducted the investigation.

Around Westmoor

TWENTY new teachers were added to the Westmoor High School faculty this year, including 11 who began their teaching career this term.

Six teachers have been added to the English department. The six are Mrs. Marilyn Beckstrom, David Holden, Mrs. Elisabeth Morris Hall, Miss Sue Waker, Miss Gaynell Widdows, and Peter Zachariou.

Joining the social sciences department are Joseph Buscacci, Hugh Conroy, Miss Kathryn Davis, and Miss Joan Jacopi.

Miss Marcia Dill and Mrs. Robin Pacini are joining the mathematics department, and Miss Mary Ann Isola and Miss Constance Svolopoulos will teach general business and typing.

Ken Brown will take over the drama department, and Miss Nancy Cook has been added to the physical education staff. Miss Patricia Wentzel is the new French teacher. She is the first Westmoor alumnus to return to the school to teach.

Charles Witcher is joining the art department, and Jack Ramage will teach psychology.

WESTMOOR HIGH SCHOOL'S new portable classrooms were not built in a day. Any Westmoorite who has been attending classes in one of the hastily set up make-shift classrooms for the past two weeks can testify to that. But the long-awaited annex buildings have now been completed.

Perhaps the makeshift room that best illustrates how crowded conditions were before completion of the new buildings is that of math teacher James Potts. Blockaded only by a blackboard and the teacher's desk, Mr. Potts' class room consisted of a number of students' desks placed at the end of acorrider. He had no bulletin board space. He had no walls.

Now, however, Mr. Potts, as well as 24 other teachers, has taken school time residence in the new portable classrooms. Books and desks were moved in late last week, and students and faculty have begun holding classes there. (While these rooms are termed "temporary" they have been built to last longer than one or two years.)

Completion of the new classrooms has freed other areas of Westmoor that have been in use housing classes up until now. The library, bookrooms, and instructional materials center, where English and history classes have been held, will again be operating for the purpose conceived. The two classes that have been held in the girls' gymnasium have now moved to the new rooms and girls' physical education will again take over the area.

CONDITIONS in many of the last-minute classrooms have been crowded or "not at all conducive to teaching." Three classes have been conducted at one time in Westmoor's Little Theater. One class met to the rear of the theater, one to the front, and another class on the stage.

Some classes met in rooms adjacent to the band room and, coincidentally, auditioned various parts of the school music department. Other classes have been held in such places as the teachers' dining room, the P.E. corective room, and the cafeteria.

Jeff Hi Pool Open to Public On Week Nights

The Jefferson High School swimming pool will be open to the public each week night except Wednesday from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. during the current school term.

The pool will be reserved for a special "ladies night" each Wednesday, 7-9 p.m.

Adult swimming classes will begin October 12, with registration 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Red Cross Lifesaving classes, both junior and senior divisions, will begin November 5.

Dengler And Marina Are Wed in Reno

The on-again off-again marriage between Navy Jet Pilot Dieter Dengler and blonde Marina Adamich of Belmont, finally took place quietly last week when the young couple went to Reno and were united in the Park Wedding Chapel.

Last Monday Miss Adamich told the Post she would never marry Dengler. However, Miss Adamich's father, former Yugoslav Naval Commander Z. V. Adamich, said he felt that Miss Adamich was misunderstood. Her statement of last week, he explained, was more one of discouragement rather than bitterness.

"I will never marry Lt. Dieter Dengler," the petite researcher in chemistry was quoted as saying.

On the same day, Dengler also said that the wedding was off because "the doctors think it is not possible to marry right now . . ."

But on Friday night, they secretly went to Reno and were married.

After escaping the Communists, Dengler was rescued by an air force helicopter crew who spotted him in an open field near the Laotian border. He has been recuperating at a San Diego, Calif., hospital.

Miss Adamich is the daughter of Yugoslav Naval Commander Z. V. Adamich. She came to the United States with her mother 16 years ago, and lives on the lower San Francisco Peninsula.

Driver Hurt In San Bruno

A 20-year-old South San Francisco man was injured Saturday when the motorcycle he was riding smashed into a car on Hensley Avenue in San Bruno.

Robert Corrie suffered a compound fracture of the left foot and ankle, plus multiple lacerations in the accident.

For the school year 1964-65 total expenditures for three administrators and five board members were some $16,099.

This figure for school year 1965-66 dropped to $10,500 for five board members and three administrators according to Greenwood. Records of three school districts of comparable size (10,000-12,000 enrollment) showed figures of from $2,499 for seven administrators and five trustees of the Redwood City Elementary School District (11,000) to some $8,865 for six administrators and five trustees at San Mateo Elementary School District (12,260).

The County Board of Education limits their "title V aministrators to $15 per day while board members receive a maximum of $30 daily for expenses.

Jefferson Elementary School District does not have a maximum allowance figure. The board approves whatever funds are necessary to cover expenses at various conventions.

In a letter to "members of the board of trustees, Jefferson Elementary School District," dated May 20, 1966, resigning Teacher Michael Pennings accused the "board majority" of shedding "crocodile tears" on the issue of reassessment and then "voted an 18 cent increase in the tax rate."

Pennings, in his letter also demanded an explanation of travel and convention expenditures.

School files showed these expenditures:

During a four-day conference at San Francisco's Hilton Hotel November 29 to December 4, 1965, Trustee Galiano was reimbursed $3.15; Trustee Thomas F. Noonan, $157; Trustee O. Wayne Douglas, $150.25 and Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz, $152.50.

A "personnel session" held by the board of trustees at a San Francisco restaurant Sept. 21, 1965 prompted the district's accountant to inform the board on Nov. 30, 1965 "a review of expenditures for travel, conferences and meetings reveals charges for meals incurred at board meetings in restaurants. Reference is made to opinion number 65-62 from the San Mateo County District Attorney's office on this subject stating that such expenditures are not permitted under the education code."

"The "session" cost some $50.

A teacher of the district, who asked his identity not be revealed, thought a trip to Southern California by two trustees for the purpose of interviewing applicants for superintendent in July 1965 "cost too much."

Both Board Chairman George G. Perry and Trustee Noonan drove to the Los Angeles-San Diego area in separate cars (total 2,793 at 10 cents a mile: $279.80) to interview several prospects for the vacated superintendent's position.

Perry departed Daly City on July 14, 1965, returning July 16. A breakdown of expenditures for the trip revealed Perry spent $35.75 for taxis and tips, $20 for tolls, parking, etc., $60.50 for meals, $42 for lodging, plus some $145 remburesement for travel; total expentiure $303.25.

A breakdown of Noonan's expenses disclosed he started hi trip on July 8 and returned July 11, and spent a total of $300; $134.30 for travel; $53.07 for lodging; $92.63 for meals and $20 for tolls, parking etc.

Ethics Probe Begins

board-of-trustee situation at Jefferson, would examine certain expenditures of the district in addition to personnel relationships and conduct, Ben Mansell, CTA's assistant executive for personnel standards, said "That's out of our field."

"Since 1948 the CTA has conducted more than 150 such studies," Mansell said. "The panel does not limit itself to one basic issue. It checks out all information. Sort of an open-end study."

Last June, the Bay Section of the CTA received a request from the local chapter of the association asking for an "ethics study" within the Jefferson Elementary School District.

"This was the first time we had been requested to conduct the study by the local chapter. We have found it is better to conduct these studies after summer vacation," Mansell explained.

The five members selected for the panel will be from outside the Jefferson District.

"Although we ask, and normally get, full co-operation from district boards, we will not stop our study if they refuse to co-operate," Mansell said.

Mansell said everyone will have a chance to present views during the investigation "but we ask only those with definite knowledge of an issue meet the board."

He said the panel did not have the time to listen to "rumors or gripes," unless they could be backed up with facts.

Meanwhile, San Mateo County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey informed Jefferson Elementary School District trustees he has "found nothing to question the incompatibility of office on the part of Peter Galiano, The Post has learned.

Attorney Galiano is also a trustee of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

He has represented the California Teachers Association on several occasions during the past few months. Most recently, he advised the CTA on a dispute over construction of an addition at the associations Burlingame complex.

Because of this "relationship" with the CTA, certain Jefferson Elementary trustees have raised the question of a possible conflict of interest.

In a letter to the Board from County Supt. Tormey, dated September 30, it was pointed out the District Attorney's Office had been asked to investigate the question of incompatibility of office between Galiano and the district, because of his CTA business.

". . . I do not have any facts in my possession which would lead to the conclusion that Mr. Galiano may not properly serve as a member of the Jefferson Elementary School District's governing board," the district attorney's letter informed Tormey.

Whether or not there were certain actions Galiano could not participate in because of a possible conflict of interest had not been asked, according to the district attorney.

Tormey made it clear to the Board he was satisfied with the DA's opinion in the matter.

Board Chairman George G. Perry had first asked the district attorney for an opinion on the conflict of interest allegations, and then attempted to cloud the issue through repeated communications to the DA asking for an Attorney General ruling on the matter, Galiano has charged.

If Galiano's conduct is found to be in conflict with the best interests of the district, his past participation in voting on matters within the district may be in question.

But Tormey said such a conflict has not been substantiated and his office will continue to accept warrants (payments) and "such other matters" necessary for the functioning of the school district.

Calm discussion of the explosive question of Trustee Peter T. Galiano's alleged conflict of interest marked Monday night's special Jefferson Elementary School District board meeting.

District Supt. Frank L. Greenwood introduced the subject, asking for "instructions of the board to the district attorney regarding the summons and complaint served in the name of Mr. Galiano."

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas moved the district attorney provide defense for the three named trustees, Chairman George G. Perry, Thomas F. Noonan and Douglas.

The three are to appear in superior court October 14. Galiano is seeking an injunction and declaratory relief. He does not want the board committee named by Chairman Perry to conduct the probe.

Arguing to amend the motion by Douglas, Galiano asked that the district attorney make a complete investigation of his (Galiano's) conflict of interest and report the findings to the board. The motion was not seconded.

Then Galiano asked an amendment directing the district attorney make no investigation at all. This also went without a second.

parking" to replace the space eliminated.

Councilmen directed the traffic safety committee to hold another meeting and consider these recommendations, and "notify those concerned in order that they might participate."

In other business Monday night, the council voted to defer action on a new trucking ordinance until a ruling is handed down on another, similar ordinance, now before appeals court.

The bid of Turner Motor Co. on a new automobile for use by the city's public works department was accepted. The bid, at $2,265, was the lowest of three received.

Permits were granted to Boy Scout Troop 275 for the selling of road flares, to Cub Scout Pack 270 for the sale of Halloween pumpkins and to the city's Girl Scout Troop for the sale of calendars.

Resolutions authorizing the signing of a contract for purchase of a new "snorkel" fire truck from Crown Coach Corp., approving a freeway agreement with the State Devision of Highways for Route 186, and approving an agreement with L. C. Smith Co. for street resurfacing were adopted.

Mayor Karney Barberian read a congratulatory telegram sent to San Bruno native Wally Bunker, Baltimore Orioles pitcher and star of the 1966 World Series.

Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Dick King announced a "Wally Bunker Day" will be held in San Bruno sometime next week to honor the Capuchino High School graduate.

AS THIS is written, the Orioles have taken the first two from the Dodgers, and even though callow youth Jim Palmer just blanked LA, if Baltimore is to win the Series it's going to be won the way they took the opener. ... Bauer having his young starters go as hard and fast as possible early, with the old vet relievers holding 'em off late. A somewhat deeper bullpen is Bauer's edge, if he has one, and we'll bet that's the way he plays it.

We hope you Baltimore fans—and, with the local boys on the squad (Bunker, Robinson, Woodling, Miller Fisher) there must be a few of you—didn't get too excited over those first two wins

If you remember, that's how Minnesota started last year, and Baltimore has basically the same type of team: about the same overall pitching and defense, less speed but not slow, a little more power but, because of less speed, not quite the run scoring ability.

The Dodgers, actually may be an all around better team than they were last year, and only a slowed Maury Wills kept them from clinching it sooner. Their pitching, despite the slow start of Drysdale and the late injury to Sutton, was actually improved, partially because Sutton took up Drysdale's pace early and Drysdale took up Sutton's slack late, but mostly because Phil Reagan took up everybody's slack all season.

ANOTHER generally overlooked factor in Dodger improvement was a definitely improved hitting attack which failed to produce more runs than last season only because of Wills' inability to play every game.

Wills played a dozen or so fewer games, which in total number wasn't great, but in most of the games in which he played he was nowhere near 100 per cent effectiveness. He hit 13 points lower, stole 55 less bases, scored 32 fewer runs.

More important than cold statistics, he just wasn't the great psychological threat that he had been in previous years.

Perhaps the most subtle indication of Dodger ability to repeat a title in a league where that sort of activity is rare was on the bench. Jeff Torborg was a capable replacement for John Rosboro, who enjoyed his finest season in years, Dick Stewart's big bat won a few games down the stretch, John Kennedy filled in well all around the infield, outfielder Al Ferrara hit some clutch blows, and most important, the emergence of Lou Johnson as a regular allowed Alston to spot the slowly but surely recovering Tommy Davis, who was, in effect, part of the bench.

Johnson is one of those phenomena that occasionally happen in baseball. As a youth with all of his physical faculties he couldn't make it with the humpty-dumpty Cubs, but at age 30 plus, physically past his peak, he makes it with a championship team.

IT MAY not, however, be so inexplicable. Johnson is evidently one of the proud athletes who can function only when something is really at stake, in front of a large, appreciable audience. He is one of the athletes for whom personal statistics mean nothing, for whom winning is the only compensation for sweat. Any winning team needs the big statistic boys, but it also needs at least one or two Johnsons.

One last word on the Series. As we write this, we don't know how it has or will come out. But had the Orioles had their ace but injured lefty, Steve Barber, they would have been assured of victory. With Barber and the other lefty, Steve McNally, throwing five games between them, Dodger antipathy to southpaw hurling would have been accentuated.

THAT television's sometimes notorious and almost always controversial rating systems are a fragment of some fancy promoter's imagination has been proven . . . or so figures Willie Kamm.

Kamm, who helped make San Francisco's "Big Rec" famous with a great glove and a big major league price tag, hit the old horsehide for a .281 lifetime average, and since retirement hasn't been doing bad with live horsehide at six furlongs, but he was recently shut out by Ed Sullivan, who can't even SMILE 60 feet, six inches.

What happened was, Kamm, along with 22 other old-time baseball greats, was invited to appear on the Sullivan show.

Kamm figuring it was his chance to crack big time show biz, not only showed up and went through hours of rehearsal to position himself on the proper "X", but on his own, in his hotel room, in cabs, on stools, practiced diligently holding his head up in such a way so that his double chin wouldn't show up.

The big moment came, Sullivan introduced him, and Kamm, chin up, stepped forward in full view of Sullivan's vaunted millions.

After the show, Willie dined out and asked the waiter if he had seen him in television, and the waiter hadn't. Willie figured it had been his shift. He figured the same for the bartender.

But by the time had had made his way to Syracuse—which he figured had had time to change shifts—and he was still getting negative replies, he began getting suspicious. There ensued a rigorous, scientific, one man cross country pole, and not until he reached an usherette at Bay Meadows, exactly 1,000 people later, did Kamm find someone who had seen the show. ... but she hadn't noticed him.

I don't even think Sullivan saw me. He introduces you with his head turned sideways."

Oh well, Willie, as an ex-athlete you should know about fleeting fame, and then there's always Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color.

LOCAL NOTES: Bud Harrelson, the rookie Met shortstop who almost single-handedly ruined the Giants the last time the Mets were in town, played third base as a freshman for San Francisco State College. ... and in the all's well that ends well category, Gil Haskell and Tim Tierney, former Gator defensive backs on whose failures to make it with the pros (49er's and Eagles, respectively) we reported earlier, both have jobs, afterall. Haskell is the new defensive coach at Riordan High, while Tierney is now the defensive backfield coach for his alma mater.

Former Terra Nova track and football man Kim Post, who has been working on a engineering job in Pacifica, has registered at University of California at Davis for six months of study on his civil engineering degree.

Post is the frustrated Tiger athlete who claimed immortality with his quote, "the only thing I'm really good at is place kicking, and we don't have any goal posts." (When TN was new, they couldn't afford them, or forgot them, or something.)

And for two final social notes of sorts, former Tiger basketball and football record holder Manuel Pick is engaged to his high school sweetheart, and ex-Oceana Shark basketball standout Larry Kinkaid is a member of the Southern Command Rifle Team which will compete in matches throughout North and South America.

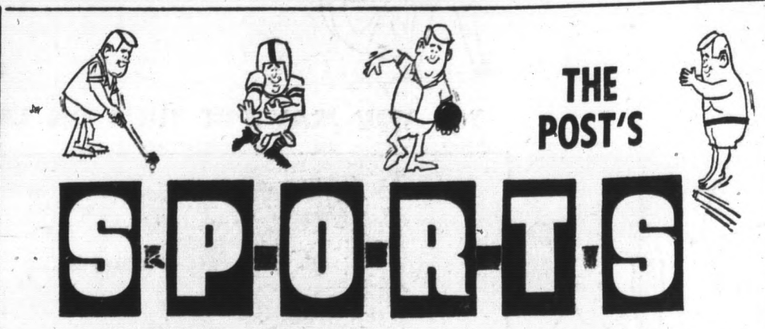
Jefferson Outscored By Westmoor 'Eleven'



Three TD's By Fleet Back Dotur

Matisi Looks At Outcome

In a prep football game played on Saturday, Westmoor shut out Jefferson, 23-0, in a North Peninsula League game.

Westmoor got 20 points from back Dave Dotur as the fleet Ram tallied on touchdown runs of 2, 3, and 11 yards, and scored a pair of conversions on runs.

Westmoor's final score came midway through the fourth period when the Rams drove 40 yards, with Dotur sweeping around right end for the final 11 yards.

"The youngsters made some mistakes, but I was real pleased with the victory," said Ram Coach Pete Matisi. "We are a young team with a fine potential and if we can overcome our mistakes we will do okay this season," Matisi added.

THE TEAM TO BEAT

Capuchino Routs San Mateo, 37-6

By MIKE FUNKE
Post Correspondent

There's no doubt about it, Capuchino High School's Mustangs are the team to beat for the Mid-Peninsula League football championship.

The 'Tangs employed an explosive running attack and an aggressive, bone-jarring defense Friday at San Mateo to throttle the once-contending Bearcats, 37-6.

San Mateo and Mills were the only teams that figured to threaten Cap for the title. Now it's up to the Vikings.

The Mustangs were in command from the very start and were unscored on by the Bearcats' offense. The only S.M. score came early in the second quarter when defensive halfback Ricki Takahashi picked up a Capuchino fumble and outran three Mustangs for a 54-yard touchdown.

That brought the Bearcats within seven points at 13-6 but they never got any closer. Cap quarterback Mike Costanzo immediately tossed a pass to halfback Jim Kauffman who sprinted 66 yards for a 19-6 count.

The play that broke the Bearcats, however, came with only six seconds left in the first half. Takahashi and end Jim Mathwig had teamed up on two passes that put S.M. on Cap's 25-yard line. Takahashi tried to hit Mathwig again, but defensive halfback Mike Mathis intervened, pulled in the ball and utilized three key blocks on a 75-yard return that put Cap ahead 25-6 at the intermission.

The Mustangs scored their first two touchdowns within two minutes of each other in the first quarter. Costanzo lobbed a pass to flanker Jerry Neary in the end zone for the first score.

Cap recovered a S.M. fumble following the kick-off and scored three plays later when Mathis rumbled through the line and slanted left for 22 yards.

San Mateo could never get going after the halftime break. Takahashi filled the air with footballs but most of them boupnced off frustrated Capuchino defenders. Mathwig caught seven passes for a MPL single game record, but the majority of Takahashi's passes were either five yards above the receiver or in the dirt in front of him.

Mike Wynn, Mark Andrews and Dan Villiott didn't help matters any. Because of them Takahashi was forced to eat the football seven times for a total loss of 48 yards. Wynn was a particular nuisance, throwing Ricki for two 12-yard losses and blocking four passes.

Cap, now 2-0 in MPL play, scored once in the third quarter when Kauffman took a hand-off from Costanzo, hesitated while Mike blocked one man, and turned on the speed to zip into the right corner of the end zone ahead of the final S.M. defender.

Immediately after that score, Cap Coach Gordy Young replaced his first unit. The Mustangs scored their final touchdown six seconds into the fourth quarter when reserve Mike Aguzin hit end Mark Belieu from 17 yards out.

Three MPL single game records were tied or broken in the contest. Mathwig's seven receptions set a record and his 89 yards gained on pass receptions tied an existing mark. Takahashi's 54-yard fumble return was also a MPL standard. That was about all that San Mateo fans had to talk about

DEFENSIVE GEM

S.S.F. Whips Burlingame

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

Take a few cupfuls of talent, add a dash of speed, a touch of class and sprinkle liberally with spirit, and then blend with some good coaching and you have the recipe for the South San Francisco High School warriors

The blue and white grid goody, which has completely forgotten what it is like to lose a football game, advanced another prosperous step in its memory lapse Friday by manhandling the Burlingame High Panthers, 19-6, before 2,000 at South San Francisco's Clifford Field.

Coming up with a supreme defensive effort, which contained the visitors to only 48 yards on the ground and another 102 in the air, the Warriors kept their 21-game unbeaten skein assembled for at least another seven days.

The game, which should have been played last year to determine the mythical champion of San Mateo County, came about a year late and a dollar short for the 1965 Mid-Peninsula League champion Panthers. It was S.S.F.'s third victory of the year, while Burlingame absorbed its third straight loss.

"I was pleased with our effort tonight, especially our first quarter play," Warrior mentor Ray DeJong stated after the contest. "We kind of let down after they got their touchdown and Burlingame rose up," he added. "They ere tough," DeJong quipped.

The Warriors opened up like they were going to run away with the game, scoring the very first time they got their hands on the ball. Reserve quarterback Larry Asterlind led the blue and white on a 14-play, 68-yard drive, with Cottrell doing the honors on a five-yard romp over left tackle. Vince Olson converted to give S.S.F. a 7-0 lead with 6:07 left in the first period.

The hosts wasted no time in hauling up another six points on the scoreboard as a little more than four minutes later Alsterlind, who also plays defense, hit halfback Tom Olmo with a 16-yard scoring strike, making it 13-0.

The Panthers, apparently a little heated and a little inspired at the Warriors' audacity to score with such ease, toughend up and settled down to the serious business of playing football.

Starting on their own 20-yard stripe, quarterback Lee Eisan, getting excellent support from fullback Hugh Allan, launched an 80-yard scoring sortee. The successful drive came to an end with 1:59 left in the first half when Eisan hit halfback Terry Brown with a 14-yard touchdown strike. The half ended with the Warriors holding a 13-7 advantage.

Neither offense could genrate much of a drive in the third period as the defenses of both clubs refused to yield ground.

Cottrell, a junior speedster who is doing very well in filling in for the departed Greg Jones finally broke open the close contest and put it beyond reach midway through the fourth stanza.

The Warriors, starting on their own 24-yard line, moved 19 yards to their own 43-yard line. Then, on second down, Cottrell took a handoff from Olson, shot through the line and then outdistanced the Panther secondary for a 57-yard touchdown gallop.

Camino Beats Oceana in MPL

The El Camino High School Colts, winless in their practice football preliminaries saved their only winning effort to date for where it counted.

Coach Bob Sexton's gridders, a bit more spirited than talented, turned their 1966 North Peninsula League debut into a very successful outing Friday as the Colts wore down visiting Oceana, 21-6, at South San Francisco's Clifford field.

And if any one group should be complimented it would have to be the El Camino defense which accounted for eight of the team's 21 points, including a two-point safety and set up another TD on an interception.

Actually, the contest was a close affair right until the last play of the game when, following the interception of a Shark pass, Frank Lucia spotted end Dan Tyler all by his lonesome and hit the gangly receiver with a perfect score which went for a 77-yard touchdown. The gun sounded as Tyler stepped into the striped zone. The score had been 14-6 until the explosive finale.

The Colts first got on the scoreboard only 1:45 into the second period when Cliff Dahlberg and Keith Falsrella broke through the Sharks' line and tackled Halfback Jim Schafner in the end zone for a safety, giving the hosts a 2-0 lead.

The Colts upped the score to 8-0 when Fullback John Castellanos bulled his way in from four yards out with 2:25 left in the half. The score culminated a 48-yard surge, highlighted by an 18-yard pass from Lucia to End Dave Landers.

Oceana got its lone score on a break in the third period. The Sharks, recovering a Colt fumble on the latter's 20-yard stripe, drove the final yards in nine plays with Schafner punching over right tackle from the one-yard line with 1:17 remaining in the period, cutting the score to 8-6.

The Colts got their insurance score just after the outset of the final period. With the inspired Sharks seemingly driving for another tally, little Paul Lee picked off an aerial on the Camino 16-yard line and raced 86 yards up the left sidelines for the score, making it 14-6. The Sharks launched a desperation drive late in the last period when the interception set the stage for the Colt's final touchdown.

Cage Wins For Jeff

Jefferson's "C" and "D" basketball teams swept a double header from rival Westmoor, marking the first lightweight sweep for the Indians in the five year history of the league.

In the opener, Jeff's "D's" just kept rolling along with an impressive 42-35 victory over their crosstown foes. The win marked the Indians eighteenth straight victory and their third in a row over Westmoor.

Leading the team once again were Jr. Rebarber and Barry Berrone. Rebarber took the scoring honors with 14 while Peronne followed close behind with 13. Lending a strong hand was Andy Themoleas who netted 8 points and hit the boards hard all game.

In the nightcap, Jeff's "C's" upset a highly talented Westmoor five with a strong 47-44 win. The win was only the second time a "C" team has beaten Westmoor under coach Kelly.

Jeff was led in the point department by Andy Furtch with 21, Dale Conway with 19, and Jim Golden with 7. But the story of the game was wrapped up in the way guards Mike Macia and Mike Mjehovich burned Westmoor's torrid press time after time.

This double win marks Jeff's lightweights as the teams to beat in this year's young season.

Westmoor's Band to Play

Fifty Bay Area high school bands and three thousand members will combine talents and efforts on Stanford University's gridiron for the annual Stanford High School Band Day, October 29. Included in this joint event is Westmoor High School and its 60-piece marching band.

Congregating on the football field during the half time of the game between Stanford and University of Washington will be the bands.

This is Westmoor's ninth year participating in the Stanford Band Day.

EARTH MOVING MACHINES are clearing ground for the new Crespi School in Pacifica, and "Phase I" of the project is well underway. The school, which will serve about 55 elementary students, is scheduled for completion next summer. Contracts have not been awarded on the latter phases of construction, but total cost of the school is expected to be about $1,400,000. (Post Photo)

Starlite Hofbrau defeated the Westlake Lounge 14-1 to take the Round Robin title with a perfect 5-0 record in the Daly City Recreation Department's Westlake Adult Slow Pitch League. Sparking the Hofbrau attack were John Morris and Pat Canavan with three hits apiece.

The Daly City Playboys pounded out a 10-0 win over the Pacifica Auto Part Giants to grab second spot in the league. Al Banfield led the Playboys' 12-hit attack as he had a perfect three for three at the plate. Bob Rankin, Paul Phalen and Dave Barry all collected key hits for the Playboys.

Rico Rockets upset the Jug Shop by a score of 6-5 to round out the action. Dave Cafferata collected two hits while Cliff Waterman drove in the winning run to pace the Rockets offensively.

Leading hitters for the champion Tornadoes were Jack Gleason, Dick Hanlon, Lou De Salvatore and Frank Strazzullo.

To round out the league action, the Rebels walloped San Rafael Glass and Paint, 16-3. The win clinched second spot for the Rebel team. Bill Fosberry walloped a three-run homerun and Terry Weitzman went four for four to lead the Rebel hitters. Randy Rothman turned in a fine pitching performance as he scattered eight hits.

COLMA DIVISION:

The Odd Fellows moved one step closer to the championship last week as they "flattened" Thompson Aircraft Tire, 15-13, for a key victory in the Colma Division. The Odd Fellows put together a 24-hit attack to nail down the win while the losers were also impressive with the bat as they whacked out 20 hits.

Bill and Mike's Shell Service stayed alive by taking an 8-5 win over Mac's Men. The win left the Shell boys just one game behind the leaders.

Mac's Men bounced back from their earlier defeat and walloped the Servomation Vendors 12-5. John O'Keefe and Jim Fisher hit key homeruns for the winners while Tom McMillin and Bill Clark rapped out three hits apiece to pace the attack. John Perry turned in some defensive "gems" at second base for the winners.

Bill and Mike's Shell Service stayed on the heels of the league-leading Odd Fellows as they put their big bats to work in a 12-5 win over Thompson Aircraft Tire. The championship should be determined this week when the Odd Fellows square off against the mighty Shell Service at Marchbanks Park.

Bowling Bits

Here's an opportunity for those who missed a chance to start a winter league to establish a Blue Book average for the coming year. The following leagues will be starting soon at Westlake: Tuesday 6:15 — Mixed Fives; Wednesday 9 — Men's 775 Scratch; Thursday 9 — Mixed Fives and Friday 6:15 — Men's Hndicap. These leagues are designed for both beginner and advanced bowlers.

John Brodie, Mel Machado and John Avakian were the high rollers in the Sunday morning Family Fours League as John Brodie led the adults with a 618 series on games of 213-197 and 208 while Mel had a 216 game and John Avakian a 565 series for the juniors.

Congratulations to Yale Odessky of the B'nai B'rith League who became the father of a son last Wednesday.

Nat Rosen took bowler of the night honors Tuesday as he topped the 850 American Scratch League with a big 631 series on games of 192-239 and 200. Elroy Peterson took second honors with 617 on games of 172-244 and 201, Marsh Tradwell had 213-608 and Ken Conragen a 222 game and 607 series.

Rae Nielsen was the big winner in Monday's Blue Chip Bonanza, taking home 1570, followed by Sarah Tigre with 1060, Bernice Mahoney with 1040 and Jo Omanski with 1020.

Les Obwald of the Veterans' League showed progress in each game last week as he shot 154-155 and 156 for a stepladder series.

Scores were high in the Friday Mixed Fours League last week as Lila Syring led the ladies with 210-545 and John Sargis topped the men with 204 and 570.

Shirley Terry was in the pocket consistently last Tuesday morning in the St. Emydius Belles League as she rolled a 213 game and a 534 series a mere 100 pins over her average.

Leading ladies for the week in the Tuesday Morning Rebels League were Lenore Hanson with a 494 series and Arly Dose with a 195 game.

All action stopped at Westlake Monday evening as George Ferreboeff really caught fire in the Golden Gate Handicap League. He started with a 211 game, rolled 224 in the second game and as spectators cheered for a 700 series, he rolled a great 246 third game for a 681 total.

Converting the almost impossible 4-7-9-10 split is quite an accomplishment if it happens once in a league but the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League bowlers saw it happen twice last Wednesday night. First Frank Loberg picked up the split then, not to be outdone, John Daly did the same thing. Al Ertassi was high scorer for the evening with 193 and 517 while Charleen Westram led the ladies with a 171 game and 424 series.

Three ladies in the 850 Classic were over the six hundred mark led by Lois Shaff with 226-629, Neva Runningwolf with 244-613 and Myrtle Johnson with 247-607.

Tom Austin started with a big 235 game in the Westlake Knolls League and followed it with 191 and 186 for a 612 series.

Sea Bowl Notes

No tap bowling starts this Friday. You may bowl from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Information can be obtained at the desk on printed sheets. This is your chance to get Blue Chips for not getting a strike.

Double Blue Chip bowling will still be held all day Sunday in addition to all day Wednesday 'til midnight. So if you can't make it on Sunday you still have Wednesday to bowl in it. The sign up tournament will run until Hallowe'en night! Entry is $2 for three games with ladies receiving 80 per cent handicap, and the men two-thirds from 200.

Lane conditions are affected by the weather. Warmth or cold will cause lanes to change from slow to fast and completely different from the adjoining lane. Although all the lanes are run with an automatic conditioning machine that gives you almost uniform conditions it is still up to you to roll the ball where you want it to go.

Go-Go-Go-Bowling is a promotion by AMF. They are giving away bowling balls, the ones with the red line around them. To win one all that you have to do is get a Look magazine (October 12), with a Go-Go number and compare it to the numbers on our bulletin board and you win. There are 50,000 chances for you to win, so don't give up hope. If you don't want to wait and win one we will be very glad to sell you one. We have some light and 16-pound balls in stock.

Sea Bowl travelers who went to Lodi to shoot a tournament didn't do so well. It seems that the scores were a little too high, and they weren't having a hot night.

Juniors who are not bowling in our 11 a.m. league may still bowl in our 1 p.m. league that is beginning this Saturday. It will be a doubles league, handicap, boys, girls or mixed. I know that there are quite a few youngsters who would like to bowl but don't because they are not asked or they feel that they can't bowl too well. So if you know a youngster who might like to bowl send him down, and let him or her enjoy the sport. The cost of the new league is $1.10 and it includes trophies, shirts as well as our picnic at Blackberry Farm.

Any suggestions for this column will be greatly appreciated. Any complaints please forget them. Any bowling news should be given to Rose Pruett a week in advance for publishing.

Most of the scores that are published are for good bowling, and the lower seldom gets his or her name in the paper. Starting next week the low bowler will also be published. I hope I don't get any complaints. Give them all to Rose.

EBB TIDE: Rose Pruett bowling anchor won sweeps money by rolling 202 for 549 series. Lois Talbot was second with 186—507. BOMBERS SINGLES: Some one had a 184 for a 534 series. Name is omitted because I couldn't read it. Besides it is not a league. MERMAIDS: Barb Beffa had high series 498 with a 185 gem. Elaine Wyatt 189. Colleen Caruso missed high series with 179—496.

KEGLERETTES: C had a 214 game for 528 beating Betty Thomas who rolled 190—513. 850 SCRATCH: Roger Luhrs high series 216, 257, and then a big 131? for a 604. Don Meadows was second with 223—596. Bob Jackson 215—595. Bob Battaglia 242 game. Al Stoker a 235 game. Dave Sarmento rolled 181 for an all-spare game. if Dave belonged to WIBC he would receive an all-spare patch. Too bad Dave!

KINGS and QUEENS: Bob Fisicaro of team No. 9 was high with 205 for 569. Dave Davis had a 232 for a 420?? F. Mendibles 226—547. D. Siacotas 213 for 536.

By the way Dave only bowled two games that accounts for the low series.

STARSHOOTERS: Ralph Giannini rolled 203 for 573 to take high game and series. Frank Skellen 198—549.

Westmoor High Teams Trampled

Westmoor's 10's and 20's basketball teams, running into trouble last week as both teams were trampled by Jefferson and South City, will have to prove themselves still eligible for the NPL title when they meet Terra Nova tomorrow.

It was a dark day for the Rams October 4 when in the first game the 10's were beaten by a score of 42-35. It was close game until the 4th quarter, when Jeff broke the game open and forged ahead. Westmoor's leading point maker was Sid Smith who reaped 11 points, while Jeff's Rebarber went up for 14 points.

The 20's game was even more disappointing as the Rams were beaten by a mere 4 points, the final score being 48-44. The leading scorer for Westmoor was Jim Feldman with 14 points, Furtch for Jeff totaled 21 points.

Neither of the teams fared much better the following Thursday when Westmoor hosted South City in their second league tilt. Showing the Rams what a little teamwork can do, the South City 10's beat ours with a final score of 44-42.

The South City quintet forged ahead in the first quarter and maintained a good lead till the third quarter, when the Rams tightened up and came within one point of the Warriors. By the last minute of the fourth quarter, Westmoor had South City tied up, 42-42. But the end of the game left the Rams staring in disbelief, as South City's Sarracino's "desperation toss" found its mark in the last half second.

The Westmoor 20's were completely swamped by South City after the first quarter. After having three of their first string players fouled out by the 4th quarter, Stev Seager, scoring 8 points, and Joel Lesser were sent in for Westmoor but the revived effort failed as well, and the Rams lost, 57-41.

Rams Frosh Smash Jeff Hi Indians

The Westmoor Rams frosh-soph men can't expect to play a much better game of football than they did last Thursday against the visiting Jefferson team, having vanquished the Indians, 25-13.

Westmoor started off on the right foot when halfback Bruce Pope on a 10-yard sweep around right end tallied the team's first six points. The team's lead was enlarged to 13-0 when freshman halfback Vic Davis made a spectacular run of 72 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter.

The conversion point was scored by halfback Mike Clabbya. In the third quarter, quarterback Joel Carrara increased the Rams' lead to 19 points in a play in which he ran with the ball inside the five-yard line, fumbled the ball, and recovered it himself in the end zone for a touchdown.

Vice Davis scored again in the fourth quarter, running 19 yards for another six points. It was also in the fourth quarter, however, that the Jefferson 11 made a strong comeback attempt, scoring two touchdowns. The first touchdown was run by Frank Eldelmann.

Even though a second touchdown was scored by Ed Howrah, as well as a conversion by Tom Catalano, the Rams proved victorious in their first league tilt of the season.

Westmoor Hi Distance Men Beat Cougars

Westmoor's varsity distance men continued their winning ways last Wednesday by defeating Half Moon Bay 15-50 on the Cougars' course.

Senior Tom Torlakson led the Rams to their third league victory in a row with a course record of 8:59.

Teammates Jeff Cochran and Terry Nihil followed Tom with second and third spots in 9:19 and 9:30.

All three broke the old Half Moon Bay record of 9:34.

Jim O'Brien and Steve Deschler completed the perfect score with fourth and fifth positions in 9:35 and 9:42.

Junior varsity competition was not officially held as Ram J. V. men ran in the varsity race.

Freshmen and sophomores from the hilltop ran together as they trounced Half Moon Bay, 16-47.

Mike Milon sprinted to a first with a frosh-soph course record in 9:24.

Mike was followed by Brown, Vasquez, Blackfield and Villalobos, taking second, third, fourth and sixth places.

Serra Boys Beat Leigh Hi

Three players of St. Mary's High School of Berkeley will key on next Saturday in a Catholic Athletic League opener against Serra High School will be Serra's Jim Garban, Bill Kehan and Mike Hickey.

They won praise from head coach Jesse Freitas Friday after leading the Padres to a 13-7 victory over a highly touted Leigh High School of San Jose, one of the top contenders in their own conference.

Plan 'Hunch' League Play

The Daly City Recreation Department is now taking sign-ups for an adult three-man "Hunch" Basketball League which will start October 18 at the War Memorial Community Center.

All games will be played on Tuesday nights between 7 and 10. League play is open to men 21 and over. Each team will be allowed five men to a roster. A $1 entry fee per player will be charged.

Rosters and entry fees will be due not later than October 14 and can be turned in to the Recreation Department offices at 144 Hillside Boulevard any time between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., or to the recreation leader at the War Memorial Community Center between 7 and 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Riordan In Third Win

Riordan of San Francisco, one of the highest scoring teams in Northern California thus far in the season, routed Sacramento last night, 47-20, in San Francisco to highlight Catholic Athletic League non-league action Friday. The win kept the Crusaders unbeaten with a 3-0 mark.

Bellarmine of San Jose, now 2-2, crushed Napa last night in that North Bay city, 29-7.

Hapless St. Francis of Mountain View, mired in its worst season in history, was shut out, 26-0, by Newark last night. The loss shoved the Lancers' record to 0-5.

What do other station wagons have that a Volkswagen doesn't?

1 A snazzy looking body.
Compared to other station wagons, a Volkswagen comes off kind of plain, styleless and boxy looking. But that's the beauty of it. Because it's shaped like a box it can hold about twice as much as stylish wagons. And because we make the body higher instead of longer, it'll park in 4' less space than stylish wagons.

2 An engine in the front.
Most station wagons devote about 1/3 of their space to carrying an engine around. But our engine is in the rear, out of the way, so most of a Volkswagen's space can be devoted to space. And with that extra weight in the rear, it gets extra traction in mud and sand and snow.

3 A drive shaft.
(It makes that big mound in the floor, from front to back, forcing the middle passenger to sit with his knees in the air.) Naturally, wagons with engines in the front have to use a drive shaft to make their rear wheels go. But not the Volkswagen. It uses a rear engine to make its rear wheels go.

4 A radiator, a water pump and hoses.
All very necessary if your wagon uses water, but a VW never touches the stuff. It's cooled by air. There's nothing to boil over, nothing to freeze up and no place to put antifreeze.

5 A frame.
Most other wagons have bulky frames. But instead of a frame, 15,982 spot welds join the Volkswagen body into one solid piece of steel. So loading 3/4 of a ton may cause a strain, but on you, not it.

6 All of the above.
That's our Volkswagen Station Wagon.
Because of what it doesn't have, it doesn't have much in common with other wagons. It doesn't look like one, it doesn't act like one and it can carry about twice as much as one.
Come in and take a look.
We think you'll like what you don't see.

COACH CREDITS QUARTERBACK

Knights Win, 7-0

By GARY WHITE
Post Correspondent

"If you can't say anything good, don't say anything at all." So stated Hillsdale High School football coach Ron Anderson who was apparenty unhappy with the Knights' 7-0 victory over the courageous Crestmoor Falcons Friday on the victors' windswept gridiron.

After a little more thought, Anderson emphatically gave Pete Jensen, the Knights' junior quarterback all the credit for their first victory of the 1966 season. "Without Jensen, we simply would not have won," said Anderson.

The Knights, who had failed to score in their first two encounters, ended their drought at 10 long quarters when 200-pound fullback Dave Brumet plunged over right tackle from one-yard out with 4:19 to play in the third period. The Knights led by Jensen drove 62 yards and made up 20 yards in penalties to paydirt, 15 plays after they had received the second half kickoff.

Hillsdale fans roared with approval. This apparently sparked the never-say-die Falcons from Crestmoor, as the San Bruno-based team flew upfield, after the ensuing kickoff, on the shoulders of their great junior fullback Juris Dumpis. In only three plays they were perched on the Knight 18-yard line, first and ten. The Knights, apparently still astonished by the seven on the scoreboard, suddenly gathered up their armor and regrouped. On the next play they seemed to mount the entire Falcon flock, jarring the ball loose. An unidentified lineman pounced on the ball for Hillsdale and the Knights still ruled.

Highlighting the scoreless first half was a hustling Crestmoor defense, that stopped a 54-yard drive by Hillsdale the first time the Knights had the ball. The drive ended on the Falcon six-yard line when Kim Morton barely missed a 22-yard field goal attempt. On two other occasions the Falcon defenders stopped Hillsdale drives around the 20-yard line.

"We played real tough inside the 20 where it really counts," said Coach Craig Brown. Brown had special praise for the ends on his defensive unit.

Since nobody elaborated on the outstanding play of the Hillsdale defenders, nobody needs too, as the game statistics tell the story, the Falcon's accumuated only five first downs the entire game (three in one drive), crossed into Knight territory only twice the entire game and gained only 70 yards in total yardage.

Commissioner In H.M.B. Defense

OWEN KASHEVAROFF, commissioner of the North Peninsula League, has taken offense at recent comments by this writer about the Half Moon Bay situation. He wants to set the record straight about certain matters.

Owen says that if Half Moon Bay feels that it can't compete in a game they have the leeway to get out of the game. "If they don't feel that they can play against South San Francisco then they don't have to."

He explained that the Coastside school asked to come into the league only after some careful planning and research which has since proved false. "When they submitted their request for league entrance they said they expected to have about 900 students in just a couple of years because Doelger was going to build tract homes in that area," commented the commissioner. Unfortunately, the homes have yet to be built.

Kashevaroff, who is in a tough situation, offered the example of Oceana as being similar to Half Moon Bay. He said it was unfortunate that South San Francisco dominates the league to such a one-sided degree but felt that "1966 will show our best balance in history."

Owen repeated that it is up to Half Moon Bay to take the initiative in the current situation. He thought that the CIF (the state's governing body) would have made HMB get into the NPL sooner or later anyway. So why not now? He listed a number of problems experienced by the school in its prior league affiliation as contributing to its application for entrance into the NPL.

However, reasons and explanations notwithstanding, something ought to be done and done quickly to right an unequal and unfair predicament which will cause nothing but headaches for both administrators and coaches.

S. F. Mates Swamp Jets

The San Francisco Mates swamped the San Bruno Jets 27-6 in a battle that saw Mates' player John Drocco, toss three deciding passes.

Drocco's bullet passed to Ed Morroney covered 47 yards, followed by another 37-yard pass to Jim McCloud. Final pass to Tim Nevin, was for 17 yards.

At the half-time the score was 14-0.

The lone Jet touchdown came on a one-yard plunge by Mike McDonald.

The Jets are slated to play at Capuchino High this Sunday.

Kickoff time is 11:30 a.m.

Rough One Due Tigers

Terra Nova High School, tied for the North Peninsula League with El Camino, figures to have a little rougher time of it next week.

The Tigers of Coach Bob Fisher will meet South SF under the arcs at Clifford field Friday in a game which could have a major bearing on the outcome of the 1966 NPL title race.

Terra Nova had an easy go of it Friday, rolling over winless Half Moon Bay, 44-0. And that was with two touchdowns called back.

COLUMBUS DAY, and traditionally this is the time when all the social organizations begin to reach full stride and the flurry of activity among the local clubwomen would probably put those hard working seamen aboard the Nina, Pinta and Santa Maria into a state of shock!

THE REJUVENATING DALY CITY COMMUNITY CHORUS, with Dennis Desjardins at the helm, has elected Sid Bronstein as the president for the coming months and Adela Zamora will be filling the secretary's position with Mrs. Ann Peters laboring over the treasurer's books.

According to Mrs. Peters, who also wears the publicity chairman's hat, new member Mrs. Grace Moore, recently from Salt Lake City but now a resident of Westlake, has volunteered to be the chorus historian and indicates she will be keeping the book so up to date that members will be able to review their recent activities once each month in the historian's log. Mrs. Janet Gillmore is the newly elected refreshment chairman and Richard Neves is the telephone chairman.

Under the revised chorus rules of procedure, auditions are no longer required of prospective vocalists and any local citizen who enjoys harmonizing with a few kindred and congenial souls is urged to attend a chorus rehearsal any Thursday evening in the Westmoor Clubhouse beginning at 8 p.m.

For the first time in the history of this organization there are more tenors, baritons and basses than altos and sopranos so come on ladies, lets sing!

NEXT WEDNESDAY the members of the Westlake Senior Citizens' Club are bound for Crockett and a tour of the sugar refinery there.

According to Willard Wagner the sightseeing through the huge C and H factory will be followed by a luncheon after which the members will board the bus for livermore and a visit to the Concannon and Wente vineyards and wineries.

In their spare time the ladies of this unit are busily putting the last minute touches on the handmade items which they will be offered for sale at the annual pre-holiday bazaar scheduled for October 26 in the social hall of the Community Baptist Church. Mrs. Hazel Wagner is the chairman of the sale which will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m.

The members of our Lady of Mercy Parish have decided to do what they can about supplying a rooting section for the 49er-Detroit Lion game on October 23 and anyone interested may purchase tickets to the Our Lady of Mercy Day at Kezar. Mrs. Richard Locke and Frank Lawson are in charge of ticket sales which entitle persons to transportation, the game and a light buffet in the parish hall later, all for the bargain price of $7.50.

A phone call to PL 6-6067 or PL 5-2116 will ensure your reservations to the game, or if you don't feel you would enjoy football, there are special tickets, for the buffet only, being sold for $2.50.

Mrs. Bette Garcia is the chairman of the Latin American Bay Cruise for the Spanish Speaking Advisory Council's Latin Fiesta committee of the Spanish Speaking Foundation, an event that is on the calendar for this coming Sunday.

The committee provides scholarships for Latin high school students and this fund raising event, which will begin at 5:30 p.m. on Pier 43½ will help swell the coffers.

Tickets are available and people are urged to call Mrs. Garcia, 334-6894 or 648-2600 to make reservations. The $5 donation entitles ticket holders to a buffet supper, a beautiful cruise about the Bay, dancing, pinate and dozens of prizes.

NEXT WEDNESDAY will be the date for the Altar and Rosary Sodality of the Church of the Good Shepard in Pacifica to hold its annual potluck dinner meeting Mrs. Frances Genest and Mrs. Peggy McDevitt are chairing the evening's preparations.

According to President Mrs. Anita Taylor a different member of the Sodality will be leading the Rosary each October morning at the 7 a.m. Mass and volunteers are asked to sign up by contacting Mrs. Taylor, 755-3475.

NEW MEMBERS of the Pacifica branch of the Federated Women's Club will be installed next Tuesday evening in ceremonies to be held in Terra Nova High School beginning at 8 p.m. Mrs. Betty Schnecker, president will preside.

Mrs. Alberta Sullivan, the publicity chairman, reports that a special treat is being planned by craft chairman Mrs. Marlys Matthews! Mrs. Matthews has mastered the technique of covering shoes with fabric so they can match the dress with which they are being worn. Samples of the centerpieces which the craft committee will be making for the fashion show tables will be displayed.

While on the subject of the fashion program, Mrs. Sullivan announced that the event has been changed from the pre-holiday season to the early spring and a February date is to be selected.

SATURDAY EVENING prospective members of Nu Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their spouses will be the guests of honor at a party to be held in the home of Mrs. Lois Noonan on El Dorado Drive in Daly City.

The regular monthly business meeting is set for October 20 and Mrs. Olga Samuelsen will entertain the membership in her home. Mrs. Jane Gallo will be the co-hostess and Mrs. Betty Scanlon and Mrs. Marty Sugrue will present the cultural thought for the evening, "Giving and Receiving Friendship."

It was sheer luck, (but then some people are extraordinarily fortunate at times), that provided the happy set of circumstances enabling the Murray Freedmans to attend the opening night performance of Can-Can at the Circle Star.

Emily just happened to have her radio tuned to KNBR's morning program, the Frank Dill Show, and she just happened to be reading an assortment of trivia about London in the Stan Deleplane column, when Dill offered two tickets to the show to anyone knowing the London telephone number for the weather report. With the answer shining up at her from the Chronicle page she couldn't help but be the winner!

EUGENE CLARK will give an organ concert on the newly installed three manual pipe organ at Lakeside Presbyterian Church on Nineteenth Avenue at Eucalyptus Drive, this Sunday evening at 8 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the program which will include preludes, fugues and chorales by a variety of famous composers. Refreshments will be served in the social hall at the conclusion of the concert.

Delay in City Hall Communications System Is Averted in Bid Award

By FRANK LA PIERRE

The Daly City Council Monday night rejected a low bid submitted by Motorola Corporation for installation of the new civic center commmunications system and awarded the contract to the next lowest bidder—Emil J. Weber Company.

Motorola had been expected to get the contract after submitting a low bid of $93,400; however protests lodged aganist the company by Weber and another electrical contractor, Buzzel Electric, were apparently instrumental in the council's decision.

Weber's bid of $109,189 was second lowest and Buzzel Electric's bid of $121,312 third lowest.

The protest, filed by Berzzell and Weber, charged Motorola with not having a proper license for the project.

Motorola contends the equipment called for in the bid, can be installed with the "specialty license" (C-61) the company possesses.

But the Contractors' State License Board has ruled otherwise.

In a letter to the San Francisco Electrical Contractors Association last September 21, examiner W. S. McKay said his office had "determined that sufficient portions of the project involved electrical work, at standard voltages and frequencies, to require an electrical contractor's license (C-10)."

Shortly after receipt of McKay's letter by the association, the council was sent a telegram, asking for a delay in awarding the bid to Motorola until "a thorough review" of the matter was made.

City Engineer Arthur W. Reschke told a study session of the city council last Monday, Motorola had also attached a two page "technical review" to the bid.

Special Report

Reschke informed the council certain supplemental information contained in the "review" indicates slight changes in original bid items.

One of the "slight changes" Motorola submitted was for a less sophisticated version of a police department status map.

The original specifications called for a three light map, in order for dispatchers to have knowledge of the whereabouts of vehicles.

Motorola requested permission to install a two-light status map, which would, according to Reschke, hamper its effectiveness.

Asked if these changes were in violation of the original bid specifications, City Attorney Paul Hupf said Motorola's bid could be considered a "non-responsive bid" and not acceptable to the city.

"Motorola has informed us they would be willing to deduct the cost of the board, but then we'd be negotiatiting the bid." Attorney Hupf said. "I don't think this would be fair to the other bidders — those who have tried to follow the specifications throughout."

The council then rejected Motorola's bid and elected to award the contract to Weber.

City Attorney Huph was instructed to "draw up the necessary papers" and the council would act upon them at the next regular session on October 24.

Had the council thrown out all bids and asked for resubmission the completion of the civic center would have been delayed for up to two months, a city official said.

ADDITION of Patrolman David L. King to the Brisbane Police Department brings total force personnel to 12 men. Now, with a population of about 4,000, Brisbane has one policeman for every 333 citizens. The national average policeman-to-citizen ratio is one to 1,000. What's going on? Brisbane folks aren't that much meaner than others.

THOMAS Noonan, a trustee of the Jefferson Union Elementary School District and a candidate for county assessor, had been conspicuous in his absence from board meetings during the current row.

SOME people wonder if the Pacifica Fire Department's highly trained cliff rescue squad really is the best answer to the Devil's Slide problem. The firemen's heroic efforts are beyond praise, but perhaps some new guard rails along this treacherous portion of the Cabrillo Highway would help also.

A GROUP in Daly City has launched a "get City Hall" movement. Well—actually it's the old City Hall BUILDING they want, when the new municipal structure is completed. The group proposes to house a Job Development Program of the Economic Opportunity Council therein.

AND, how about that nude jailbreaker over at San Bruno last week? Nelson Roche, a 20-year-old Haight-Ashbury type, apparently thought his birthday suit was less conspicuous than the San Francisco County Jail garb. But, the North Beach influence isn't all that prevalent in Pacifica yet, and he was apprehended after putting in an appearance at the Saddle Town riding stables in the Linda Mar district. Some Lady Godiva he'd have made!

Senator Dolwig Comes Through

The voice of San Mateo County comes through loud and clear in the California State Senate. This comes about because San Mateo County's Senator Richard J. (Dick) Dolwig is a top-bracket representative of his county's people in the upper house. With ten years of seniority in the Senate, and ten years of leading stature in the Assembly prior to that, he can be counted one of California's ranking legislators.

Both seniority and leadership position held by a legislator combine to make him most effective for his constituency. With both these essentials Dolwig has kept San Mateo County to the forefront in the State Senate. He has accomplished, and will continue to accomplish, far more for the people of his county than any new legislator could possibly attain.

This is what the voters of San Mateo County must keep in mind when they go to the polls at the general election on November 8.

But, in broader scope, they should also keep in mind that Senator Dolwig is much more than a capable legislator for the people of his own county. The legislature represents the entire State of California and most of its acts concern all of the people of the state. It is the awareness of this that separates the statemen from the politicians.

Dolwig gained his eminence in the legislature because he has been aware of it from the day he first entered the public service. His leadership has stemmed from his willingness and desire to do the best he could for all California and all Californians. To such a man a legislature must respond and accord leadership.

It is for this reason that the people of San Mateo County can be proud of their State Senator—a man who serves both them and the state with equal competence and devotion.

And, it is for this reason that, irrespective of party affiliation, they have elected him again and again. His responsibility and his responsiveness have always transcended party lines and his constituents and his fellow legislators, alike, have always been able to depend upon him for honesty and fairness, and for the hard work that a genuinely effective legislator performs.

After twenty years Dick Dolwig is reaching a new prime point in his value to the people of San Mateo County and the people of California. They must keep him working for them.

Vote for Richard J. (Dick) Dolwig at the election on November 8 and make sure.

Superintendent Choice Is Kent

Before the primary election in June The Post carefully examined the qualifications of three candidates for the office of San Mateo County Superintendent of Schools and concluded that, while all three candidates were excellent, one of them had an exceptionally fine record of experience and of academic, professional and administrative accomplishment. That candidate was Dr. J. Russell Kent, who is presently superintendent of the Hillsborough schools.

Dr. Kent will face a run-off election on November 8 with one of the other candidates and The Post again strongly urges that he be elected.

The schools of this county and the role of the county superintendent in assisting them are of vital importance and the most costly of our public services. The office of county superintendent demands the very best man who can be obtained.

On the record, Dr. J. Russell Kent is that man.

His career has covered the scope of the job in the most minute detail. He has been a teacher in elementary, junior high and high schools. He has been a principal and he is currently a superintendent. No one has better qualifications as an educator or more qualification at the grass-roots level.

But Kent has gone beyond this. He has been an assistant professor and lecturer in school administration, school finance, school law, and school business administration at Stanford and an associate professor at San Jose State College. He is the author of the official manual of the California School Boards Association and of "Administration of the School Insurance Program" published by the State Department of Education.

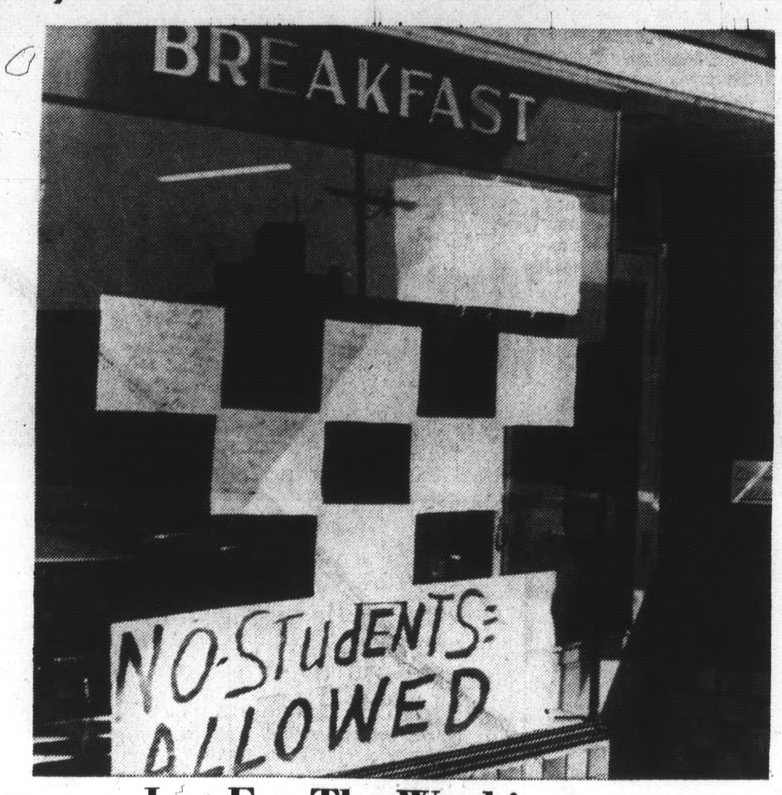
Kent is a real expert in the field of education. He holds a Stanford doctorate in school administration and degrees in the social sciences and economics. He has been an expert consultant in education to many California school districts, to schools in Hawaii, Washington, Montana, and New Mexico. He has been consultant to the California Joint Legislative Committee on Revision of the Education Code, to the Bureau of Governmental Research at UCLA, and to the district attorneys of a number of counties.

He has numerous other qualifications in the educational field and an outstanding record of public service.

He is exactly fitted by his education, experience, and achievements to the post of County Superintendent of Schools and it is doubtful that a nationwide search could find a more able man, certainly not one with the unique knowledge of San Mateo County schools possessed by Dr. Kent.

In the view of The Post it would be a great loss to the people of this county to elect any other candidate their Superintendent of Schools when they have the opportunity to place an educator and administrator of the eminence of Dr. J. Russell Kent in that office.

This county is much too large, and its schools much too important, to take less than the best. Vote for Dr. J. Russell Kent for County Superintendent of Schools. Get an expert for the job that needs an expert.



Just For The Working . . .

No, they didn't wreck the place, the proprietor just "doesn't want the nickels and dimes." Though it is located across the street from the Jefferson High School, this restaurant, and many others in the area, prefer "working class customers" to the students. (Post Photo)

Winter Brings Furnace Warning

Lorene Beasley

IF YOU are thinking about having your furnace or heating unit checked for winter use, don't be victimized by the "furnace gypster"—the heating "expert" who offers to clean your furnace free and who always finds something wrong with the heating equipment.

In the majority of cases the "something wrong" is simply a guise to sell a new furnace. Permitting itinerants to make an "inspection" and make repairs often results in the home owner paying an exorbitant bill when all that was needed was a minor adjustment.

The Better Business Bureaus across the country are receiving inquiries concerning seasonal misrepresentations in the heating business. San Mateo County has many heating firms whose reputations are above reproach. However, it is plagued with unethical firms and, as a consequence, people are at a loss as to whom to trust.

HOW DOES one know if the furnace inspector is legitimate? How can you be assured a heating firm is reputable? How do you know whether the furnace actually needs repairs?

First, if your furnace is not working properly, phone the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. They will be happy to send out a man to check your furnace. When their representative calls, make sure that he is an official representative of P.G. & E.

Beware of door-to-door solicitors. One of the tricks of the gypster uses is to pose as a furnace company representative calling to clean your furnace at its "in-the-neighborhood special" price.

He may tell you that your furnace is a fire hazard and liable to explode. He may use such scare tactics as saying the furnace is releasing deadly gas fumes or distributing poluted air. Families with small children, widows and widowers, the senior citizen and people with respiratory troubles are their special targets.

ANOTHER trick furnace crooks use is to pose as a city furnace inspector. After using this guise to gain admission into the home, he checks the furnace and finds it to be in "dangerous" condition. The furnace will need expensive repairs. He might even go so far as to condemn it.

The gypster will then recommend a firm which he says is good and reasonable. When the salesman, who is an accomplice, arrives on the scene, the home owner is given the sad news that, because of the costly repairs, it would be less expensive to buy a new furnace. He may "just happen to be able to offer a special price" on a new furnace. An order is placed, a contract signed and oftentimes a new furnace that was not needed is installed.

The Better Business Bureau recommends:

—Get at least three estimates from reliable companies.

—Read and understand your contract before signing.

—If installation calls for home alterations, be sure a permit is obtained for all work and that the work has been satisfactorily completed before signing a completion certificate.

Preserving Two Images

Barbara Bladen

It's commendable that Mrs. Charles Black took a stand against a San Francisco Film Festival entry that she considered "pornographic." It's equally commendable that the selection committee voted to keep it on the program. Premature blacklisting isn't fair.

After all, Shirley Temple Black has an image to preserve. But so does the festival. It is vital that the Bay City event establish a policy for presenting important works of cinematic creativity; other festivals are run differently. Some are catch-alls for the avant-garde and unusual, others for the esoteric coterie of film buffs whose eclecticism makes for dull viewing and others for the spectacle and safety that mass public opinion often sways.

If there is no faith in the judgment of the selection committee, then why have a festival at all. These people spend hundreds of hours in travel time and viewing time to screen a dearth of films. They have to see hundreds before coming up with a good one. That's the nature of film-making and few festival films have had previous exposure or benefit of criticism regarding length.

I have observed the recent New York Film Festival which has far less "heart" than our event, and fewer entertainment values other than stimulating an intellectual curiosity. But they show uncut films, early works of directors who hadn't yet "found themselves" and program a generally depressing (stimulating but depressing) schedule of previously unseen works.

MEL SWIG DESCRIBED HIS COMMITTEE'S policy on film selections as "wanting to present film as a total art. Editing, acting, directing, lighting, and photography, are all components that make a complete film and we want to judge them on this basis. If it appears a finished film, we will give it our serious consideration."

Amos Vogel, New York festival director, proclaimed that "a new generation of film makers has arrived. The 'giants' we know so well—be they Fellini, Bergman, Kurosawa, Wajda or even Antonioni—have imperceptively become the 'middle' generation and we must now get used to new names knocking at the battered gates of eternity: Bellochhio, Skolimowski, Forman, Teshigahara, Jancso, Bertolucci, Chytilova, Pasolini, Nemec, Polanski, Rivette, Lester, Allio, Varda, Saura, Paradjhanov. Tongue-twisters of today, they are the Life magazine feature articles of tomorrow.

"The cinema is changing. Thematically, stylistically, philosophically, esthetically. It was always a bit silly to imagine that film, insofar as it is art, could remain exempt from what is happening in the other arts. We are inundated by ambiguity, allegory, improvisation, existentialist complexities; in short, life as seen by the creative artists of the dominant generation.

"Unless audiences, exhibitors, distributors and critics catch up with 'what's happening, baby' they will be left behind. The onus, as always, is not on the artist; he is merely man's most nakedly sensitive radar instrument toward an understanding of his world. It is we who must learn to read him."

THE FILM IN CONTROVERSY is "Night Games," written and directed by former actress Mai Zetterling from her own novel. It was not condemned for pornography in the New York Times after a closed showing at the recent Venice Film Festival but did receive objection from the Vatican newspaper, Osservatore Romano.

The S.F. committee's decision to show the film was five in favor, one against. According to Committee Chairman Claude Jarman, the one vote against was on the basis of ineptitude, not morality.

Censorship and the elusive question of immorality, pornography and obscenity are being put to a greater test than ever in the history of mass communications. Jack Valenti's new codes are reshaping the future of Hollywood and the preference for foreign films by American audiences who are fed up with "forced feeding" based on puritan values make it essential to the success of a major film festival that we see what is being done in other places.

I'll not take Mrs. Black's word on the nature of the film, And before you take mine, you should make an effort to see it and judge for yourself. Developing an astutely, critical film audience should be the prime reason for establishing a festival.

Fiedler Collection Of Three Novellas

Samuel Chandler

(Today's column is by David Crane of the Daly City Public Library staff.)

LESLIE FIEDLER, whose major work thus far has been in the field of literary criticism with his "Life and Death in the American Novel," has written a collection of three novellas published under the title "The Last Jew in America."

The title story concerns the Jewish inhabitants of a small community in the West known as Lewis and Clark City, and an elderly Jew who attempts to recruit a "minyan" (a quorum of 10 male Jews) for the last Yom Kippur of his friend who is dying of cancer.

His efforts meet with resistance as he finds that his counterparts and their children have been assimilated into the Gentile way of life which has all but destroyed their traditional Jewish pride and values. Although he ultimately succeeds, it only serves to widen the schism between himself and the other Jews of the community.

IN THE second story, "The Last WASP in the World," the scene is a party following a Jewish wedding where Vincent Hazelbaker, a former son of Lewis and Clark City is now a prize-winning poet living on the East Coast. The only Gentile at the affair, he wanders about becoming increasingly intoxicated and contemptible to the people around him. He is finally taken home and put to bed by his wife and two former mistresses and left alone in an alcoholic stupor to be haunted by an incident in the past.

In the final story, "The First Spade in the West," the setting returns to Lewis and Clark City where Ned York, the great-grandson of a Negro slave who accompanied the founders of the city, has become a successful night club owner.

Although Ned can point to the statue of his great-grandfather in the park, and has hopes of being chosen Man of the Year by the City Chamber of Commerce, he still must drive 40 miles to another town to get a haircut. He inadvertently becomes involved in an event that could destroy his future in the community, and which emphasizes the precarious position of an affuluent Negro in an all-white atmosphere.

MR. FIEDLER is a master of dialogue, which is particularly evident in "The Last WASP in the World"; however, his "Jew" and "WASP" are rather bland literary stereotypes of the Old World Jew and the clever philander-Citywhegh ing artist which are prevalent in much of today's fiction. Ned York, the "Spade" however, is a truly unique and appealing character. The problems he faces are not those of the deprived Negro in the South or the northern ghetto, but they are equally difficult to transcend.

Despite the heritage of his great-grandfather, his economic status, and his popularity, he is still an outsider restricted by the boundaries imposed by a white majority. Mr. Fiedler presents a candid description of this contemporary dilemma which is well worth reading.

"The Last Jew in America." By Leslie A. Fiedler. Stein and Day; 191 pp.; $4.95.

Entries available every Tuesday and Wednesday in The Times; every Wednesday in The Post

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.

2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S.F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)

3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:
FOOTBALL CONTEST
The Post
30 Park Plaza Dr.,
Daly City, Calif.

4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times by 9:30 A.M. on Saturday.

5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford, on November 19. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker, the prize will be divided qually. (This includes ties between contstants who pick 15 winners.)

6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each cash prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.

7. Number of entries from one household is limited to fifteen (15) on official entry blanks but only one (1) exact sized facsimile of the official entry blank may be submitted. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.

9. Anyone may enter the contest except employes of The Times or immediate members of their family.

10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times, no answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Entertainment and Dining
by LLOYD JOHNSON

Member of Dino's 'Cast' Former Movie Star

BRING YOUR AUTOGRAPH BOOK and a hearty appetite to Dino's of San Mateo, where Owners Dino Boneso and Tom Zucchelli feature delectable Italian food and mouth-watering American favorites. You could also say, Dino's features a "celebrity" catering to your dining needs. Headwaiter Ulrich Schelling, a native of Germany, appeared in the recently released film, "Beau Geste," an exciting tale about the French Foreign Legion. Ulrich was chosen for the role because he served in the Legion in Algeria at the time the "Beau Geste" story occurred . . . Standouts in the Cameo Club revue: Paul King, a dancer-comic-instrumentalist who does everything Sammy Davis does—and then some. Pleasing sight for girl-watchers: The eye-popping figure of exotic dancer Rene Van Doren and Carmen, the beguiling Topless Senorita.

PEOPLE WHO HAVE HAD DINNER at the new Stickney's of San Mateo Stagecoach Room restaurant come away talking about the Continental charm of Night Manager Roland Ravens, a transplanted European with a broad background in food service. Although just 30 years old, Ravens has worked at some of Europe's finest restaurants, starting with his apprenticeship at the age of 11 in Hamburg's famous Rathwenkeller. Following his graduation from Europe's Hotel and Restaurant College, Ravens went on to work at the Grand Hotel in Montraeux, the Palace Hotel in Lugano, the Monte Carlo in Monaco, and the Hilton Hotel in Instanbul . . . The Hotel Canterbury has two after-dinner drinks in its Prime Rib Room that are popular — the Bullfrog, a Kahlua refresher, and the Grasshopper, a mint delight . . . The Bank of California's Nugget Club held their dinner-meeting in the Plaza Room at the Fior d'Italia.

TWO GALA OPENINGS AT HARRAH'S: Alan King and Buddy Greco at Lake Tahoe opened last Sunday and George Kirby and the Kim Sisters at Reno Thursday evening, Oct. 13. Rarely does one organization have two openings in one week—much less five days apart as the King-Greco and Kirby-Kims openings. Last time King appeared at Harrah's he regaled audiences with stories of Everyman against airlines, and The Better Half. What he will come up with this time is anybody's guess. Greco, the curly-haired paisano whose following including Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr., has a richly expressive voice with dramatic power. Meanwhile, at Harrah's Reno, George Kirby, the mimic-singer-comic, promises to be a great attraction with the talented Kim Sisters. Kirby is a do-everything, economy sized Sammy Davis Jr., who, incidentally, appears at Harrah's Reno through October 12.

FRANK MARTINELLI JR., owner of the posh 'appy Knight restaurant in Hillsdale and two Steak Pits, was once San Francisco's most dashing man-about-town. He and his dad operated the Bal Tabarin, now Bimbo's 365, during the booming war years. Once married to actress Janice Paige, he squired such glamour gals as Jane Russell and Ella Mae Morse . . . Handsome bouzouki (Greek guitar) player Fotis Gonis, of the Balkan Village orchestra is showing his nimble-fingered musical talent which made him a favorite entertainer in the Greek Pavilion of the New York World's Fair . . . Palo Alto politicos have adopted Prime Rib Inn as their favorite dining spot. Owner Louis Torres figures more important political decisions have been made over a prime rib lunch or dinner here than in the offices at City Hall . . . Allan Cranston and his political entourage were among the guests, a few nights ago, enjoying the steak dinner at Lew Lehr's in SF's Marina.

F. Martinelli, Jr.

THE CABANA HOTEL got another big nudge towards doubling its banquet and convention business, recently, when it appointed Joseph Bienz as Director of its food and beverage department. Mr. Bienz, a native of Lucerne, Switzerland, and a graduate of Zurich's well-known Hotel School, has held top spots at such noted establishments as Harvey's Resort Hotel in Lake Tahoe, the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco and the Hyde Park Hotel in London. He's quite a linguist, too—speaks, reads and writes French, German, Spanish, English and Italian . . . Another gourmet restaurant has opened in the Stardust Hotel, Las Vegas, making a total of five excellent dining facilities in the huge hotel. Moby Dick joins such dining spots as Aku Aku, the Plantation Kitchen, the Cafe Continental, and the Palm Room. Seafood and fish are flown in fresh daily from the East Coast.

THE GEORGE CERRUTTI TRIO still making the sweetest sounds this side of heaven, at the Villa Lounge on El Camino Real. While enjoying the evening music and dancing, have Mixologist Don Williams prepare your favorite libation. If it can be mixed, he'll do it! You couldn't find a friendlier place to watch the football games, in living color . . . The slogan "Here's Really Where the Action Is" at Bill Gilbert's Tiger Club at the Hilton Inn goes double this week. A brand new group to this area, "Action Unlimited," opened on Monday and they're breaking everyone up with their riotous humor and wild musical renditions . . . A world of vitality, color, gaiety, romance, of sumptuous foods and intoxicating aromas await you when dining at Dave Rasmussen's Shadows in San Mateo. All the result of General Manager George McCaman and Executive Chef Bill Mills.

George Cerrutti

Name It And Phyllis Torre Fills the Bill

Some professionals are content to pursue one career in their lifetime, but not so with Phyllis Torre, vocalist for The Squires, who headline the marquee every Friday and Saturday night for dinner-dancing at Dave Bellucci's Adobe Creek Lodge restaurant in Los Altos Hills. Besides being a top-notch singer, the curvacious beauty has worked as an actress, dancer, travel agent and beautician, to name just a few.

La Touraine Also Serves Diet Plate

Gourmets revel in the splendid French cuisine served at La Touraine in Burlingame. But don't despair if you're a calorie counter—a special treat is in store when you try the Diet Plate Special. Delicious French food and prices which pay you to eat out, make La Touraine the ideal place to dine anytime.

Jim Backus Quips With Comic Lucian At Famous Finocchio's

A great night for fans at Finocchio's, the other evening, when genial Jim Backus of movie and TV game engaged in a sparkling exchange of quips with Lucian, the "last of the redhot Papas." Patrons love this sort of thing, which is getting to be a regular thing at Finocchio's home of female impersonators. Just a few weeks ago it was comedienne Cass Daley. Backus and his lovely wife, Penny, stayed through two shows; then Backus went backstage to visit the cast.

Taste tip of the week at the Castaway restaurant at Coyote Point, San Mateo: Baked Filet of Mahi Mahi, served with slices of pineapple and slivers of almonds. Absolutely delicious!

For an enjoyable night out, plan dinner at Doran's in Belmont. Afterwards, step into the cocktail lounge and catch Larry Wickersham at the organ. It's pleasurable-

The Tahoe 3-Day Pass, which includes two nights in a de luxe motel; bottle of champagne; eight cocktails at Harrah's, Harvey's, Barney's and the Sahara Tahoe; show reservations; $4 cash refund, and $4 in Bingo and Keno machine coupons, also offers an "Overnight Pass" for $6.96 per person. It includes one night in a de luxe motel; champagne; four cocktails; guaranteed show reservations; $4 refund, and $2 in Bingo and Keno machine coupons.

The Franciscan Room in the Brentwood Lodge, South San Francisco, with a refreshing view of a picturesque terrace and waterfall, offers fine facilities for banquets and a desirable setting for fashion shows and receptions.

Raves and more raves from the swinging crowd gathered nightly at the newly opened Burlingame Black Horse on Primrose Avenue. All the cheering is for the way Owners Bob Rosselli and Bob Batinovich mix the portions. Rumor has it: The fireplace area is so cozy, there's a list of reservations for weekends. Join the stampede—see you this weekend at the Black Horse.

BIG CELEBRATION AT NICK'S IN PACIFICA, last month, when Anastasia and Charles Gust, mother and father of Restaurateur Nick Gust, celebrated the fifty-ninth anniversary of their wedding day with countless friends and members of the family at the famous Rockaway Beach Nick's Restaurant.

Leaning Tower "Leans" Towards Banquets

Are you difficult to please? Then treat yourself to a delectable treat—Lobster Tails at the Leaning Tower restaurant in South San Francisco. Moderate prices and an elegant atmosphere. Newly added banquet facilities, including a private bar, make it a favorite gathering place for large group affairs. Call 583-5539 for information.

Swing'n Wayne Manor Features Thunderbirds

The Thunderbirds, a hard-rock musical unit, opened their first Bay Area engagement at Joe Lewis' stately Wayne Manor, the swinging Batcave in Sunnyvale, last Tuesday. The six-member group play over 25 major musical instruments, representing over $12,000.

Police Claim Driver Filed False Report

A 24-year-old truck driver has been charged by San Bruno police with filing a false report in an attempt to cover up an automobile accident early Monday.

James Clifford Marc, 969 Huntington Avenue, San Bruno, assertedly lost control of his vehicle while traveling on Tanforan property, north of Forest Lane at 2:30 a.m. It jumped a curb and sheared off a fire hydrant.

A police department spokesman said Marc apparently tried to drive to his home, which is near the accident scene. But when he was unable to do so because of damage to the vehicle, he decided to report to police that his car had been stolen in South San Francisco, police say.

There were 866 colleges and universities in the United States at the end of the Second World War. In 1965, there were 2,300.

Young Folk Sign Up For Instruction

Fifteen young people in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades have registered for confirmation instruction classes at Bethlehm Lutheran Church, Pacifica, the Rev. M. Douglas Swendseid, pastor, announced.

These classes, covering a three year period, prepare the young people for adult membership in the church.

Continuing their instruction are Dawn Reutzel, Gloria Berg, Randy Everson, Marita Johnson, Gus Reutzel, Phil Carlson, Gail Carlson, Ken Trudell, Dexter Mahlum and Susie Buchalter.

Beginning their instruction are Rachel Swendseid, Robert Carnahan, Susan Kane, Jackie Mahlum and Jody Yehle. Classes are held Saturday mornings at 10 at the church, located at 533 Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica.

Bethlehem holds two services at 9 and 11 on Sunday mornings with Church School classes for all ages at 10 a.m. This Sunday Pastor Swendseid will preach on the "The Question of Faith."

A pot-luck dinner and family night for members and friends followed by an interesting program presented by the young people of the church is planned for this Sunday, beginning at 6 p.m. announces. William Yehle, chairman of the planning committee.

WHO Tries To Build A School

WHO, or Westmoor High Overseas, has been a continuous campaign at Westmoor High School.

Started in the spring of 1966 by former student-body vice president Janis Bell, WHO has since been continued by the present executive board.

The amount needed to build a school overseas is $1,000. Presently the campaign has gone over the $700 mark.

WHO donations are on a voluntary basis. Both students and teachers are found donating various amounts in the green WHO cans, which are placed around the school.

The first school dance, the traditional Ramrock, was dedicated to WHO. Football team members carried WHO cans around the dance floor and solicited donations.

Missionary From India Will Speak

The 7 p.m. Sunday Family Fellowship Gospel Hour of the Westside Baptist Church of San Bruno will feature a talk by Dr. Joseph Schoonmaker, M.D., a medical missionary to India.

Dr. and Mrs. Schoonmaker and their family have been overseas for two terms of five years each.

Three districts on the north bank of Assam are served by the missionaries of the Baptist General Conference, and the Schoonmakers have worked in each.

Doctor Schoonmaker has been in charge of a mobile clinic which tours the area in established centers and sub centers.

His proficiency in eye surgery has resulted in restored vision for many as eye diseases have been treated and cataracts removed a church spokesman pointed out.

Sermon Is Selected

"The Time is Short" will be the sermon topic for the Rev. Dave Donnelly of the Westside Baptist Church at 11 a.m. Sunday in San Bruno.

This is another in a series of messages from the Book of First Cointhians.

The Jefferson Scene

By Lauri Sarubbi

The Jefferson High School Marching Band attended the seventeenth annual High School Band Day at the University of California this Saturday, October 1, 1966.

The 61 piece group, under the direction of Richard Larson, was one of the 68 high school bands which performed at the half-time of the California-Pittsburgh football game. The University of California Marching Band sponsors the event every year.

The trip to Berkeley was the beginning of a full day for the high school bandsmen. Bands arrived early Saturday morning from as far away as Ashland, Ore., and Carson City, Nev.

The 68 bands gathered in Edwards Track Stadium on the University campus for a two-and-a-half hour morning rehearsal. Here, the problems of moving the 4,500 bandsmen on and off the field in less than five minutes were ironed out, as were any problems in the music.

After the rehearsal, the high school bandsmen ate lunch and moved through the campus to the stadium. Once seated, the young musicians watched their hosts perform in the pre-game show.

The Cal band always considers this audience one of the most critical of the year.

The half-time pagentry began when the Cal band drum cadence brought the massed bands onto the field in a vast parade of billiant colors. The splendor of the show was accented by the appearance of 350 high school majorettes and twirlers.

The music program included "Aida Entrance," by Verdi; the beautiful "Hymn of All Nations," from Finlandia by Sibelius, and a favorite Sousa march, "El Capitan."

The massed bands were conducted by James Berdahl, director of bands at the University of California. Berdahl was instrumental in establishing High School Band Day in 1950, and was conducting the massed bands for the seventeenth consecutive year.

4 Win CSM Jazz Positions

Four former Westmoorites have won places for themselves in the jazz band of the College of San Mateo. Tony Viegas, who graduated last year, plays solo trumpet and Rich Perta, is playing alto saxophone. Along with Rich, Charles, Brickley, a 1965 graduate, plays the saxophone.

Two years ago, Mel Ellison, another Westmoor graduate, won a full scholarship to the Boston School of Music. Now, he too, is going to CSM, and has won the position of tenor saxophone in the CSM jazz band.

Managers Named By Safeway

Safeway Stores, Incorporated, have announced the names of the various managers for its operation in the Fairmont Shopping Center, now nearing completion at Hickey Boulevard and Gateway Drive, Pacifica.

Don Laughrey has been appointed manager of the Safeway Drug Center. He joined the Safeway organization as a toiletries buyer in 1964.

He later worked on new store setups in Dallas and Garland, Texas, and Ogden, Utah. He most recently was assistant manager of the Berkeley Safeway Drug Center.

He is a native of Oakland and a graduate of San Jose State College, where he majored in business administration. He and his wife, Ginger, recently moved from Concord to Daly City, with their three children, Bruce, Denise and Steven.

Sheldon Blank, a ten year veteran employee, has been named manager of the food store. He started as a food clerk in San Francisco, and later served in supervisory capacities, prior to appointment as store manager in 1964. Blank was born in San Francisco and is a graduate of San Francisco State College, with a degree in business administration. He and his wife, Margaret, live in South San Francisco, with their two children, Richard and Alan.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Samll cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.
If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.
A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.
Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew food and to help prevent other dental diseases.
Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same, however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Some New Ways To Enjoy Walnuts

Here are some recipe ideas from the Diamond Walnut Ki6chen.

French Toast Canapes — Try these for something new at your next party. Dip two-inch rounds of dry bread in French toast batter and fry unti lgolden. Spread lightly with canned mushroom steak sauce; cover with chopped California walnuts and sprinkle with salt to taste. Bake in a hot oven until crisp.

Italian-Style Topping — Combine one cup ricotta or creamy cottage cheese with ¼-cup chopped California walnuts. Flavor to taste with sugar, nutmeg and rum or brandy. Very refreshing served over warm gingerbread, chocolate cupcakes or a fruit cobbler.

Gourmet Grapes — For a gala dessert thats easy to prepare combine one cup dairy sour cream with one cup halved seedless green grapes, ½-cup chopped California walnuts and a sprinkling of grated orange peel. Spread in an oven-proof dish, cover generously with brown sugar and broil until bubbly. Serve immediately.

Succulent Tidbits —Combine a pot-pourri of your favorite dried fruits; cover with port wine and refrigerate at least 48 hours. At serving time stir in toasted California walnut halves or large pieces. Delicious as accompaniment with roast turkey, chicken or ham.

Deviled Eggs De Luxe — For hidden zing blend a little anchovy paste into your next bowlful of deviled egg filling. Then top each stuffed egg with California walnut halves which have been lightly salted and sauteed in butter.

Walnut Winter Jewel — Alternate whole cranberry sauce, diced fresh winter pears and chopped California walnuts in your tallest parfaits. Pour on one or two tablespoons maple syrup and top with a swirl of cinnamon flavored whipped cream.

Walnut Cheese-Cake —Gild the lily a little and generously cover the top of your next cheese-cake (from the frozen food section at the grocer's) with equal amounts of chopped California walnuts and semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Press down gently to mold topping to cake.

Salad News — Fill crisp lettuce cups with a salad made of equal parts of toasted California walnuts, cooked garbanzo beans, chopped onion and ¼-inch cubes of cream cheese. Sprinkle with salt and pepper; toss with a zippy French dressing.

Walnuts to the Rescue — Shallow scratch marks on many items of furniture can be quickly covered by this easy method. Shell a fresh California walnut; slice the kernel in half and rub scratches with the cut surface.

Children Go for These — Slice bananas lengthwise; dip in lemon juice. Coat rounded sides with finely chopped California walnuts. Place, walnut side up, on serving plate. Impale apple slices or pineapple spears on toothpicks, top with a cherry and insert for sail. Finely shredded lettuce replaces ripply river waves.

Walnut Angel Wings — Toast slices of bakery angel food cake on both sides under your broiler. Spread with apple butter; sprinkle with chopped California walnuts and run under the broiler again for one mintue.

Walnut-Donut Doodles — Perk up day-old donuts by slicing them crosswise through the middle, drizzling a little fruit juice over them, then spreading cut sides with penuch or fudge frosting and sprinkling generously with chopped California walnuts. Serve with a spoon.

Walnut Coats — Your favorite fruit bread quickly dons a crisp, crunchy coat when you try this idea. Grease your loaf pan generously with butter or shortening and sprinkle sides and bottom with ¼ to ½ cup finely chopped California walnuts before pouring in batter.

Glamorous Entree — Add California walnuts, toasted golden brown, and a sprinkling of roquefort cheese to your next seafood salad. Serve in large cream puffs.

Bartlett Treat

For a nice treat to serve with a glass of Sherry wine, cut fresh California Bartlett pears into halves; remove core. Blend softened cream cheese and blue cheese; stir in chopped almonds and candied ginger. Fill pear halves with cheese mixture and garnish with almonds.

U.S. Department of Agriculture says that in Asia the average person gets about one quart of milk every two weeks, and 3 eggs per month. North Americans average about a quart of milk and one egg each day.

Build Up Values

Strengthen Meal Values Through Soup—Add extra ingredients (dividends from yesterday's supper) to canned condensed soup. Use milk when the label gives an option on milk or water. Add diced meat, rice, or vegetables to most any soup.

Ice cream production in California increased 62 per cent from 1954 to 1964. Consumption in the state in 1965 was 66,455,000 gallons, or about 14 quarts per capita.

Mix condensed tomato and green pea soups with half milk and half water for four to six quick luncheon servings.

Johnny's Seeds Really Bore Fruit

From gaunt and bearded Johnny Appleseed's missionary work among Indians and early settlers, seedling apple plantings moved Westward faster, often, than the white settlers.

Johnny (John Chapman), roamed the expanding new America—frequently barefoot, but hatted with an iron kettle—planting apple seeds, befriending Indians and settlers alike, and sharing his inspirational thoughts with them.

From his early nineteenth century travels, came the foundation for an industry which now benefits all of us. And which, in this year 1966, will grow nationally almost 128,000,000 boxes of apples.

Modern Washington apple growers don't wear iron kettles for hats, or go barefoot when planting new orchards. But the description of "missionary" fits them, for they rigorously and steadily work to advance the cause of finer, more-flavorful, better-handled Washington apples for their nation-wide neighbors.

This year, the Washington apple crop will total 31,000,000 boxes of apples, an increase of nearly 5 million boxes over last year. It will require about 30,000 workers just to pick this beautiful crop—and thousands more to handle it in warehouses and packing lines.

This Washington apple harvest will supply nearly one-third of all apples sold "fresh" in the United States this season. Also, an increase in C A Storage rooms will enable Washington State to hold 3,240,000 boxes at prime condition for distribution next spring and summer.

In the year 1966 these 31,000,000 boxes of Washington State apples are our bountiful tribute to Johnny Appleseed. This is a living legend.

Raft Salads

Cut crosswise slices from a head of western iceberg lettuce. Spread with horseradish-flavored mayonnaise and top with slices of orange and apple and halves of grapes.

Appetizers

Remove seeds from small cucumbers or zucchini with apple corer and stuff with a mixture of roasted diced almonds and cream cheese. Chill thoroughly and slice just before serving.

Soup Break

Soup for a Work Break—Tired and bored workers find a soup break has lasting advantages. Hot beef broth and consomme are convenient, low calorie soup beverages with winning flavors.

For Art Soup—Add a little chopped parsley and diced pimiento to condensed chicken with rice soup.

Only 5,597 dairy plants were in operation in the U.S. in January, compared to over 19,000 plants during 1958.

Incas and Indians Contribute to a Pleasant Modern Meal

From France

Imports From France—Laces and perfumes come our way from France, and so does onion soup. The French people appreciate its warmth and good food value. You'll find the popular condensed American version a welcome chill-chaser and "pep-upper" after outdoor exercise.

Honey Stimulant

Honey is one of the quickest natural stimulants known. It is full of simple sugar that requires little or no digestion. It is often called "Hurry-Up-Pep" by the athletes who carry it with them when ready for action.

Can you imagine planning three meals a day without the help of corn, beans, tomatoes, green peppers, potatoes and other root vegetables? And how about Thanksgiving dinner without turkey?

These are just a few of the foods that America has given to the world, and it was upon corn and potatoes that our early civilizations depended.

Without corn the empire of the Incas could not have existed; without corn the armies of the Incas could never have crossed the Andes to extend their domain north and south into the most highly cultured and greatest empire in the world at that time.

Sweet potatoes must be ranked next to maize in importance as a food crop. The sweet tubers were cultivated by the pre-Incan races of Peru, and may be the oldest of all American root vegetables.

Corn and sweet potatoes were the staff of life of the southern Indian tribes. To the north, the Indians did not fare as well as their southern cousins.

Slices of fresh California Bartlett pear are a delightful surprise in Caesar salad.

Acorns were the chief food, except for those living in coastal regions who learned to fish. They caught great quantities of salmon and what they couldn't eat fresh were preserved by smoking and drying for the lean winter months.

In the recipes that follow, salmon finds itself in the agreeable company of corn and sweet potatoes in two wonderfully flavorful dishes that are truly American and worthy of applause.

SALMON CORN CASSEROLE AGAWAM

3 eggs
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups cream
1 package (10 ounces) frozen corn, defrosted
1 1-pound can salmon

Beat eggs. Stir in flour, salt and pepper, butter and cream.

U.S. dairy exports in fiscal 1965 reached $226 million, representing 5 per cent of the value of U.S. milk output and comprised of 945 million pounds of nonfat dry milk; 122 million pounds of butter; 41 million pounds of anhydrous milk fat, and 98 million pounds of canned milk.

Stir in corn and the liquid from the can of salmon. Flake and stir in salmon. Pour mixture into a buttered 1½-quart baking casserole. Sprinkle with a little freshly grated nutmeg if desired, and bake in a preheated 350-degree F. oven for 45 minutes. Serve hot. Serves 4.

AZTEC SWEET POTATO AND SALMON PIE

4 medium sweet potatoes, cooked
¼ cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 1-pound can salmon
1 can (10½ ounces) beef broth
1 small can pineapple, cubed (2 slices)

Mash sweet potatoes and beat in the cream. Spoon mixture into an 8-inch pie plate and spread evenly over bottom and sides, making a nest or "crust" for the pie.

In saucepan melt butter. Stir in flour and cook for 2 minutes. Stir in liquid from the can of salmon, the beef broth and ¼ cup liquid from the can of pineapple. Cook, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add cubed pineapple slices. Flake and add salmon. Pour mixture into the prepared pie plate, and heat in a preheated 350-degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Serves 4.

A Swedish Pancake Idea You'll Like

Since the day the first stack of flapjacks was consumed, pancakes have been a dish looked upon by most as something uniquely American. The pancake specialty houses sprouting up throughout the country lend credence to this belief.

Though we like our pancakes, other countries enjoy them too. As proof, here's an electric griddle recipe for Swedish pancakes.

SWEDISH PANCAKES

2 eggs
1 cup light cream
1½ teaspoon sugar
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt

Beat eggs just enough to blend yolks and whites; add cream. Sift flour, sugar and salt into liquid ingredients; beat until smooth with rotary beater. Let stand at least 2 hours so that batter thickens and cakes will hold shape on griddle. Heat griddle to 375 degrees. Beat batter again and pour 2 tablespoons batter for each pancake, spreading to form 5-inch cake. Brown on both sides. Roll or fold pancakes. Keep warm until ready to fill. Thaw two 10-ounce packages frozen strawberries and drain. (Or use 1 quart fresh sweetened berries.) Fill each pancake with a spoonful of strawberries and roll up again. Arrange 3 pancakes for a serving. Sift powdered sugar over the top. Center with a puff of whipped cream and strawberry. Makes 1 dozen 6-inch pancakes.

SQUASH WITH APPLES AND SAUSAGES

2 medium acorn squash
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) pie-sliced apples, thoroughly drained
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 package (8 ounces) brown-and-serve sausages, cut in half crosswise
1-3 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

Halve squash lengthwise; remove seeds and stringy portion. Place squash, cut side down, in a cake pan into which they just fit; add about ¼-inch of water. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until tender—about 45 minutes. Turn squash cavity side up and drain off water. Sprinkle squash with salt. Thoroughly mix together the apples, sausages and sugar; spoon into squash cavities. Bake in the moderate oven until apple mixture is very hot—about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Season's Over But Get Your Batter Up for Fall

VEGETABLE FRITTERS—dip them in a cornmeal batter and fry in deep fat.

The French call them beignets. Americans call them fritters — those small pieces of meat, poultry, fish, vegetables or fruit dipped into a batter and deep-fat friend. French cooks use a flour batter; American cooks have created their own classic variation by adding cornmeal.

These vegetable fritters are encased in just such a batter, and they come out of the frying kettle crisp, crunchy and delicious. Of course the deep-fat frying takes time. If you're new at this task, you may want to test your mettle by cutting this recipe in half the first time around.

Vegetable Cornmeal Fritters

1 medium (about 1 pound) eggplant
3 medium (about 1 pound) firm green tomatoes
1 small head (about 1 pound) cauliflower
1 cup unsifted regular flour (stir well to aerate before measuring)
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
1½ teaspoons onion powder
2 cups enriched white cornmeal
2 eggs
2 cups milk
Hot shortening for deep-fat frying
Cheese Sauce, if desired

Pare eggplant; cut into strips about 3 inches long and ½-inch wide. Slice tomatoes medium-thick. Separate cauliflower into small flowerets.

In a medium mixing bowl thoroughly stir together the flour, salt, pepper and onion powder. Stir in the cornmeal. Add the eggs and milk; beat until smooth.

Dip vegetables into batter and fry a few at a time in hot deep fat (375 degrees) turning as necessary, until golden brown — this will take only a few minutes for each batch; do not crowd frying kettle or temperature of fat will be reduced. Drain on brown paper or on several thicknesses of paper toweling. Keep batter-fried vegetables warm in a shallow pan in a low oven until all are fried. Serve as a main course for lunch with Cheese Sauce, or as an appetizer without the sauce. Makes 6 servings as a luncheon course or 12 servings as an appetizer.

Cheese Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
2 cups milk
½ cup (⅛-pound) grated sharp cheddar cheese

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; stir in the flour, salt and cayenne. Add the milk; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Off heat, stir in the cheese until melted. Cover and reheat gently (do not boil) at serving time. Or, make the sauce in the top part of a double boiler over direct heat and then keep hot, covered, over hot (not boiling) water.

Recipe Notes

1. Pare the eggplant only a few minutes before it is to be used, so it won't turn brown.
2. Use small sharp knife to separate the cauliflower into flowerets — they should be quite small.
3. It's a good idea to stir the cornmeal batter each time before dipping the vegetables into it. Toward the end of the frying time, the batter will be quite thick and you may thin it with a little milk.
4. Use your kitchen tongs for manipulating the vegetables in and out of the batter and the frying kettle.
5. When small bits of batter accumulate in the frying kettle, scoop them out with a slotted spoon.
6. If the vegetable fritters are served as an appetizer-snack, you may want to sprinkle them lightly with salt when they come out of the kettle.
7. Canned cheddar cheese soup may be used as an accompaniment for the fritters when they are served as a main course; the soup may also be used as a dip when they are served as a snack. Follow the directions on the can for turning the soup into a sauce.

Tissue Covers Front Yard

San Mateo police are seeking vandals who spread a large amount of toilet tissue over the front yard of the Donald J. Hamilton home, 732 Columbia Drive, early Sunday, even to the extent of spelling out obscene words with the tissue on the high front hedge.

Policeman Richard R. Bona reported that contents of a full garbage can also had been dumped on the front lawn.

Hamilton informed the officer that his property had been subject to similar vandalism from time to time during the past year.

The policeman said that officers plan to question some area juvenile boys.

Hallowe'en Special Holiday For the Young in Heart

Hallowe'en is a very special holiday for the youngsters — and for all the young at heart. Tricks and treats and the mystery of masks and costumes are all the best of fun, and in many families Hallow'en parties are an important part of the traditional festivities.

If you are planning a party this Hallow'een, serve a child-delighting Milk Chocolate Hallowe'en Cat Cake. Delicious and imaginative, this easy-to prepare cake makes a perfect party centerpiece that you can serve for dessert.

The cake is tender and moist, made from Milk Chocolate Cake Mix and the creamy, smooth frosting is new Satin Milk Chocolate ready-to-spread frosting. "Ready-to-spread" means frosting as good as homemade without the muss and fuss of home preparation and cleanup.

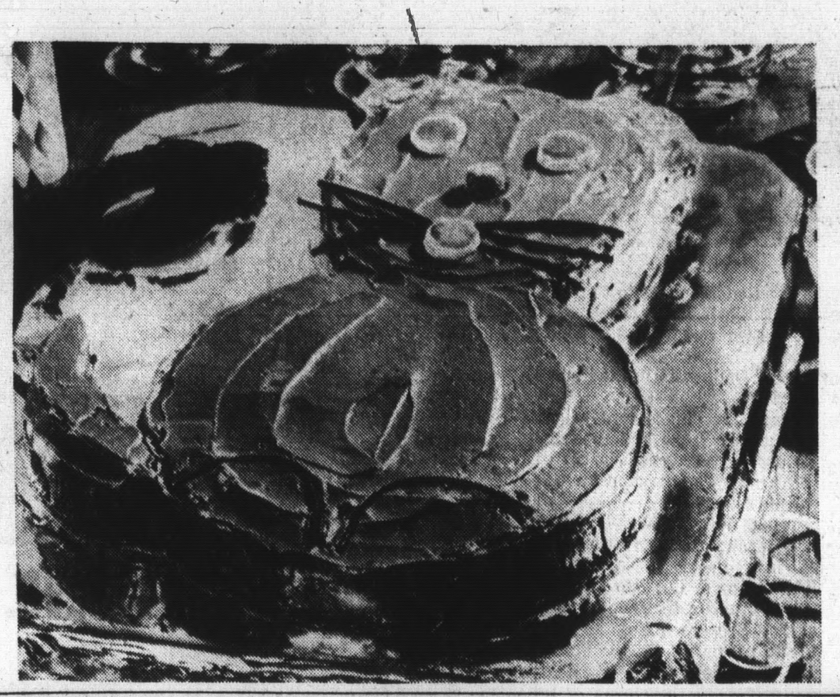
Simply open the can, dip and spread. All you need to make this festive dessert is one 8-inch layer cake pan and one 9-inch layer cake pan — no special baking equipment is required.

And you can serve the finished cake on a foil-covered tray or breadboard. So, "treat" your party guests to this clever Milk Chocolate Hallowe'en Cat Cake and we promise there'll be no "tricks" coming your way this year!

Here's the recipe:

MILK CHOCOLATE HALLOWE'EN CAT CAKE

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour an 8x1½-inch and a 9x1½-inch round layer pan. Prepare milk chocolate cake mix as directed on package. Cool. Cover a baking sheet with aluminum foil. Place the 9x1½-inch layer on covered sheet for body. Cut the 8x1½-inch layer to form head by trimming along sides and top, leaving ears gently rounded. Use piece trimmed from right side of head for tail. Frost with milk chocolate ready-to-spread frosting. Decorate with grumdrops and shoestring licorice. For eyes, cut a green gumdrop in half and roll each half to form flat circles. Use a black gumdrop for nose and a red gumdrop for mouth. Use shoestring licorice for whiskers and shape shoestring licorice into semicircles for feet.



Two Cars Hit Six-Year-Olds

A six-year-old Daly City boy was reported in fair condition at Mary's Help Hospital today with a skull fracture suffered, when he was hit by a car while riding his bike Monday.

Driver Joseph A. Arch, 45, of 59 Ridgefield Avenue, told police the child darted out from behind a parked car and he was unable to avoid hitting him.

Jeffery attends Abraham Lincoln School and lives at 736 Higate Avenue.

In a similar accident Monday, six-year-old Gregory Smotkins of 361 Palomar Avenue was struck by a car while crossing the street in front of his home.

Join the President In a Tasty Pecan Pie

It is inevitable that pecan pie is a featured dessert at the White House. It is reported that pecan pie is one of President Johnson's favorite desserts and it is, without question, the most famous dessert of his native state of Texas.

Pecan pie once considered a delicacy to be enjoyed only in those states where pecans grow profusely, can now, with the use of canned nuts be relished in all fifty states.

If you have never made a pecan pie, then now is the time to do it. With fresh pecans on the market for the holiday season, you may want to make it from the fresh nuts. If so, you can count on getting 2¼ cups nut meat from one-pound of pecans. If you have nuts left over, either canned or fresh, store them in the refrigerator or better still in the freezer. They keep perfectly.

Deluxe Pecan Pie

1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup drink corn syrup
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted margarine
1 cup pecans

Mix eggs, corn syrup, sugar, vanilla, salt and margarine. Stir in pecans. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in 400 degrees F. (hot) oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees F. (moderate) and bake an additional 30 to 35 minutes. (Filling should be slightly less set in center than around edge).

Note: Omit salt if salted nuts are used.

Fudge Nut Pie: Follow recipe for Deluxe Pecan Pie melting 2 squares unsweetened chocolate with margarine and reducing eggs to 2.

Deluxe Pecan Tarts: Roll enough pastry for 2 crust pie to ⅛ inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut into circles; use to line 6 to 8 individual tart shells. Prepare filling according to recipe for Deluxe Pecan Pie. Pour into shells. Bake in 400 degree F. (hot) oven 20 to 25 minutes.

1½ cups sifted flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup margarine
2 tablespoons cold water

Combine floor and salt in mixing bowl. Blend in margarine with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture is very well blended and fine crumbs form. (Do not be afraid of overmixing.) Sprinkle water over mixture while tossing to blend well. Press dough firmly into ball with hands. (If mixture seems crumbly, work with hands until it will hold together.)

Flatten dough slightly and roll out to 12-inch circle on lightly floured board or cloth. Fit loosely into 9-inch pie pan. Trim ½ inch beyond rim of pan, if necessary. Flute edge. Fill and bake as directed above.

A Refreshing Meal From Great Lakes

From a way up north in the land o' the Great Lakes comes a zesty salad idea that will give a refreshing lift to any meal.

Home Economists of the U.S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commerical Fisheries have released this Scandinavian speciality for the imaginative homemaker who is looking for something new and something different in a salad.

Next time you're searching for a salad idea — try Scandinavian Herring Salad for a gusto treat that you'll want to repeat.

SCANDINAVIAN HERRING SALAD

2 jars (13 hounces each) pickled herring
1 jar (1 pound) pickled beets
2 cups diced cooked potatoes
1 cup diced pared apples
1 cup chopped sweet pickle
2 rablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
teaspoon white pepper
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Sour Cream Dressing

Drain herring. Remove skin and bones; dice herring. Drain beets, reserving liquid for dressing; dice beets. Combine beets, potatoes, apple, pickle, onion, and fish. Combine vinegar, sugar, and pepper; stir until sugar dissolves. Add to herring mixture and mix gently. Pack salad mixture into a 1½-quart mixing bowl or plain mold. Cover tightly and chill for at least 1 hour. To upnmold, run a spatula around edge of bowl; invert onto a platter and shake gently to release. Arrange hard-cooked egg around base of salad. Serve with Sour Cream Dressing. Serves 6.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING

½ cup sour cream
2 teaspoons beet liquid
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon horseradish
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients; chill. Serve with Scandinavin Herring Salad. Makes about ½ cup of dressing.

Calorie Delight

Fill chilled cantaloupe halves with fresh California Bartlett pear slices and top with scoops of lime sherbet.

1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon white pepper
1 clove garlic, if desired

Rub fat and meaty surfaces of beef with a mixture of the flour, salt and pepper. If used, insert garlic slivers between fat and meat. Roast in a shallow pan (12 by 8 by 3 inches) in a hot (425 degrees) oven for 1 hour; turn off heat. Without opening oven door, allow meat to stand in oven with heat turned off for ½ hour. Dress Up Potatoes For Your Casserole

BEST-EVER CHEESE SAUCE
(makes 3 cups of rich smooth sauce)

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
dash pepper
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
2 cups milk
½ pound sharp-aged natural Cheddar cheese to give 2 rounded cups shredded cheese
dashes of Worcestershire and Tabasco sauces if desired

Unless you can stay right with it, you had better use a double boiler. Melt butter in top of double boiler over hot water. Add flour, salt and pepper. Stir until smooth. Add milk and stir until sauce is thickened, then add cheese and seasonings. Stir until cheese is melted.

Use from the hot sauce, adding just enough to hold the potatoes together. Pour remainder in jar with tight-fitting cover, and place in refrigerator. To use, heat it with a bit of milk, amount depending upon desired thickness. You'll find many uses for it. Note: a plain medium white Sauce may be used for the potatoes instead of the Cheese Sauce, reserving the cheese for the outside of the mold.

The center of a ring-molded Potato-Cheese dish filled with hot buttered peas is a perfect buffet partner for a plate of cold sliced baked ham, chicken or turkey, or slices of leftover roast of beef, lamb or pork. Add a relish like spiced apricots and some hot rolls, a favorite dessert. It makes a remembered meal. Or it may be a main course itself, so that with a garnish of tomato wedges or crumb-topped baked tomato halves, and buttered broccoli or string beans, it becomes the principal dish of a meatless meal. It certainly helps along an almost-no-meat meal too!

Unusual Dumpling In Sherry Sauce

Baked apple dumplings, surrounded by a Sherry-cinnamon sauce have so many special features they've been named Sherry Apple Packets to distinguish them from any other dumpling you ever made. They've won praise from everyone who has been lucky enough to sample them.

There is a whole apple in each packet, as you'd expect. Its center is filled with sugar and spice. Then, a rich pastry flavored with lemon juice is wrapped around each one. The climax of the preparation comes when the Sherry sauce—tinted pink, if you wish—is poured around the dumplings as they bake.

For an outstanding dessert, serve these packets with small glasses of California Port. Its deep rich color and flavor are a perfect partner for the Sherried apples.

SHERRY APPLE PACKETS
6 baking apples
Lemon Pastry Squares
1¼ cups sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup California Sherry
½ cup water
Red food coloring (optional)

Core and peel apples. Place each apple on a pastry square. Spoon mixture of ¼ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon into apple centers; dot with 1 tablespoon butter.

Fold pastry to enclose apples, moistening edges with Sherry to seal. Prick surface of pastry with a fork. Place packets in a shallow baking pan about 1 inch apart. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes or until pastry begins to take on color. Meanwhile, measure Sherry, remaining sugar, cinnamon, butter and water into a saucepan. Bring to a boil, simmer 3 or 4 minutes. Add a drop or two of red food coloring, if desired. Pour hot syrup around apples after first 15 to 20 minutes baking. Continue baking until pastry is crisp and a rich golden brown and apples are tender, about 20 to 25 minutes longer. Remove from oven and let stand until cool. Serve with the rich Sherry syrup either plain or topped with whipped cream or ice cream. For a fancy garnish, top each dumpling with a maraschino cherry and a pastry leaf.

LEMON PASTRY SQUARES
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup shortening
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 or 4 tablespoons cold water or milk

Resift flour with salt into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening. Add liquid, mixing just until pastry holds together. Round up into a ball, turn out on floured board and divide into 6 equal-size pieces. Roll each piece to a 6 or 7-inch square.

No Ho Hum Dessert: Use Cranberries

Tired of ho-hum desserts? Take a tip from a cook who's a known temptress and serve this attractive fruit melange.

Cranberries are the secret ingredients in this very special treat.

Cranberry juice is used as a "base" to blend fruit flavors. It adds a wonderful tart-sweet taste and a bright and cheery color you can't resist. Sweetened fresh cranberries add the touch which makes this melange fit for kings and people.

Cranberry Fruit Melange
(Makes 10 Servings)

1 cup sugar
¾ cup water
2 cups fresh cranberries
2 cups stemmed seedless green grapes
4 fresh peaches, peeled, pitted and sliced
4 navel oranges, peeled and sliced
3 cups melon balls
1 small fresh pineapple, peeled and cut into chunks
½ cup cranberry juice cocktail

Combine sugar, water and cranberries in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes. Cool. Combine remaining fruits. Add cooked cranberries and the cranberry juice. Toss lightly to blend well. Pour mixture into a pretty serving bowl and chill.

Beans for Fish

Sprinkle hot, drained Blue Lake green beans with chopped dill pickle and hard-cooked egg to serve with fish sticks.

Fall's Finest Garden Show. . .

The chrysanthemum, is a flower that puts on fall's finest garden show. Although they are at the peak of their bloom at this time, there will still be good flowers through November, if the weather co-operates.

Now is an excellent time for home owners to select and plant the type of chrysanthemum he most admires, as every nursery has a large assortment of these wonderful fall-flowering perennials in full bloom in pots. Don't let the short stems of most of the pot plants bother you as these plants are purposely forced into bloom before the stems can reach their natural length. A short-stemmed pot plant has many advantages. It makes an attractive indoor plant and its beauty is not marred by stakes; it can be massed at an entrance for brilliant, low color, and it is easier and cheaper to handle. However, these same short-stemmed plants will grow to a normal height next year unless they are again given the forcing treatment.

Chrysanthemums come in such a variety of types that a detailed discussion of the different kinds would fill a book. Only the expert "Mum" specialist knows all the types and varieties. It is for this reason the uninitiated should choose his varieties while they are in flower. Another reason is the extensive color range. There are a number of shades of the basic colors of red, yellow, bronze and green, and to the color conscious, the right color is important.

Potted chrysanthemums are a good buy plantwise. The commercial growers of chrysanthemums usually use five to seven rooted cuttings per pot in order to make an attractive display. When the homeowner gets these pots home he can enjoy the blooms until they fade then he can separate the plants and set each one individually in the garden where each plant will make a sizable clump for cuttings or divisions next year.

You can keep the plants in the pot over the winter, if you choose, but they will need to be watered often enough to keep the soil moist and fertilized once each week to ten days until the plants are repotted next spring. In the garden, they can be fertilized immediately after they are set out and watered. Thereafter, they will need only weekly watering until the rains take over.

Next spring, in late April or June, the new tip growths can be used for cuttings. Some of the books say this should be done earlier, but we have found the plants grow too tall when the cuttings are made, rooted and set out too early. This necessitates tall stakes with several ties per stake. Keep in mind, that chrysanthemums, most varieties, are short-day blooming plants. Growers take advantage of this knowledge to force them into bloom at all times of the year by drawing a heavy black cloth over the plants from 4 p.m. on.

We use ordinary clean river sand to root our cuttings. We dip the cut ends in a rooting medium (a small jar will last for several years), make a hole in the wet sand with a pencil and set the cutting in the hole. When a line of cuttings are placed, we firm the sand tightly against the cuttings. The cuttings won't root if left dangling in air pockets. After the box is filled with cuttings all tightly firmed in, it is watered to further settle the sand. The sand is kept moist and the box kept in the shade until the cuttings are rooted. This takes from four to six weeks. Less watering will be needed if the cutting box is covered with cloth.

When setting out the rooted cuttings, pinch out the top to encourage branching. Keep the plants growing steadliy by regular applications of fertilizer and water and come this time next fall, you will have a garden full of blooms.

The Chrysanthemum, queen of fall flowers—"Mums"—in bloom are available now in most nurseries and garden supply houses. These potted "Mums" give immediate color and being a true perennial they will carry over for several years to come.

DON'T BLOCK THE PATH

Occasionally, we bring you interior decorating hints, and here are some about furniture arrangement that a lot of people overlook.

There is nothing more disturbing (and painful) than walking through a living room and banging your shins on the sharp edge of a misplaced coffee table.

Remember that most rooms lead to somewhere else and you must have free movement within a room with clear access through it.

The furniture in too many rooms is arranged like an obstacle course. This does not mean that you should line all your furniture up against the walls. Actually it is very possible and not difficult to maintain all of the elements of good arrangement and still provide easy access through and within each room.

Don't block entrances and exits. Place chairs close enough for conversation but far enough apart to allow plenty of leg room.

Arrange coffee tables close enough to sofas and chairs to be useful but far enough away to permit free passage between the tables and furniture pieces.

And, many people make the mistake of using too large a dining room table in a small dinette so that when you try to sit down at the table, you find yourself pulling the chairs un against the wall. Better use a smaller table with larger extension leaves.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience. (Copyright)

Try Some Pansies For Winter Color

Peninsula gardens would be a lot less colorful in winter and early spring if they could not have violas, a horticulural tribe that includes pansies and violets as well as violas.

Although classed as hardy perennials, only the violets are treated as such. Violas and pansies are treated as annuals to be set out during the cool months of September to April. In cool San Francisco's Strybing Arboretum, the late Eric Walther was very proud of a large bed of blue violas that trailed down a semi-shady glen. His pride was in the fact that these violas bloomed the year around.

Now is the time to find members of the viola tribe in the nurseries. Pansies are making their appearance in flats of mixed colors but separate colors may be ordered through the nurseryman at your favorite garden supplier. There are several strains but the best way to learn the best strain for your needs is to start with any of the following and test them in your own garden until you have found the one that gives you the biggest flowers and the most unusual color combinations: Roggli (Swiss Giants), Steele's Jumbo, Canadian Maple leaf, Race Track or (Santa Anita) and the new Sakata hybrids that won the 1966 All America Selections Award.

Violas are sold in flats of separate colors because they are usually massed as a single color or used as border subjects or set in window boxes and planters. Many nurseries have these in 'packs' of one or two dozen for the gardener with just a tiny space to fill.

Violas and pansies make excellent covers of bulb plantings

Conference On Beauty

By IVA NEWMAN

Recently, we attended the Western States Conference on Litter Prevention and Beautification at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco. This was an all-day meeting sponsored by "Keep America Beautiful, Inc., in co-operation with California State Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, chairman, Action Advisory Committee on California Beauty, brought Governor Brown's greetings to the more than 400 delegates. Smith L. Rairdon, director of KAB served as presiding officer.

Allen H. Seed Jr., executive vice president of KAB, opened his talk by asking for a police crackdown on litterbugs. Seed said that litterbugs cost the U.S. taxpayers $500 million a year in clean-up costs, "but only a handful of them are arrested and prosecuted. An armed robber need only seize a few thousand dollars and the police teletypes will buzz alarms across the nation. The litterbug can pilfer hundreds of millions of dollars of taxpayers' money, and there is virtually no outcry."

He referred to a KAB survey revealing that in eight Western States maintaining separate records of litter violations, state authorities made a total of just under 3,000 arrests for littering in 1965. California accounted for two-thirds of the total. Thirty-five states across the nation reported less than 10,000 arrests. "The only encouraging note is that the number of arrests, nationwide, in 1965 was 10 per cent more than the year before," he said. In the Western states they were up 8.5 per cent.

He cited California, which led the nation with almost one-fifth of all reported arrests for littering, as proof that litterbugs are not necessarily immune from the law. "If we are to succeed in the battle against littering, we must call for a crackdown by our law enforcement agencies," he concluded. "Our programs of public education and provision of litter disposal facilities are an indispensible aid to the law enforcement job. They will solve the problem with responsible citizens, but the hard core litterbugs must be challenged by the police."

Mrs. Valley M. Knudsen, president, Los Angeles Beautiful and second speaker of the morning session, stressed that working with the local government is essential to the success of any beautification program. She explained that Los Angeles Beautiful studies community problems in concert with governmental experts in various fields.

Pet Shops Zoning Set for Millbrae

Whether dogs are "persons" was the question raised Monday night in Millbrae's Planning Commission when planners discovered pet shops are not included in their new zoning ordinance.

Ruth Craig had asked for a use permit to operate a dog grooming business at 231 El Camino Real, and for a permit to utilize a signboard existing there.

As planners were discussing whether to grant a use permit for the dog "beauty shop" Commissioner Don Cahen abruptly asked why a use permit was needed.

"This is a personal service, like a radio or TV repair shop, a shoe shop, or a barber shop," he said, "and they don't need use permits in this zoning."

Other planning commissioners looked at Cahen blankly for a moment, and then staffers discovered he was right.

A paragraph on pet shops, which had existed in the city's older ordinance, had apparently been overlooked when the new rules were written last year.

Commissioners agreed to grant the use permits anyway, because they felt it agreed with the intent of the law, and suggested to City Attorney Frank Piombo that he begin drawing up new laws to eliminate the oversight.

Planners granted a use permit to David Todd to add to his garage at 20 Cozzolino Drive; approved remodeling La Mia shop at 455 Broadway; agreed to Vincent Haley's addition to his house at 1155 Hillcrest Boulevard; granted permission for a tire storage shed at Union Oil's service station at 5 El Camino Real, and Barry Burman was granted another year's use of his Telescope Hills signs subdivision signs.

Commissioners held over a scheduled public hearing on Joseph Wietendorf's proposed auto repair shop at 630 El Camino Real, and held back any action on Richmond Enterprises' building plan for upper Broadway.

Bruno Girl Credit Queen

A meeting held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel selected a "Miss Credit Union" to represent the El Camino Chapter at the State Convention of the California Credit Union League to be held in Los Angeles in November.

Entrees from each Chapter will compete for the State title of "Miss Credit Union."

Miss Judith Ann Todd of San Bruno was selected to represent Credit Union on the Peninsula. Judith is a twenty-seven-year-old blonde with green eyes.

She was the entree from Pacifica Air Lines Credit Union where she is employed and has been a credit union member since 1961. Judith is a native of California, and attended Capuchino High School and College of San Mateo.

Belmont Feud Over Tree Protection

One of those strange intramural battles the Belmont City Council regularly gets itself into erupted at Monday's meeting, this one ostensibly over preservation of ten large trees behind the Safeway Store at Alameda de las Pulgas and Ralston Avenue.

It grew out of Councilwoman Eve Sterry's discovery last week that Safeway had applied to the city for a resubdivision of its property which would in effect lop off the landscaped buffer zone between it and the homes on Coronet Boulevard behind it, with the land to be sold then for a professional building to four men—three of them city officials.

Mrs. Sterry later charged that the trees would be cut down, despite promises in a 1962 rezoning election that they would be preserved. This came out of the argument last night:

1. Mayor Edward D. Vallerga, one of the prospective buyers, claimed that "If Mrs. Sterry had contacted anyone she'd have found those trees will be more highly protected than ever";

Mrs. Sterry later charged 2. Councilman Morton L. Podolsky, another buyer listed by Safeway, said he recently had pulled out of the deal since the new master plan and zoning map had given him the professional zoning he needed for a medical building of his own at 1023 Ralston;

3. Mrs. Sterry fell under a verbal avalanche by Councilman Joseph Zucca for "prejudicing the planning commission by getting interested in these Coronet trees suddenly."

The planners last Monday set a public hearing on the Safeway resubdivision for October 17, after which it would come to the council. The sale is contingent on the resubdivision. Other listed buyers are Victor G. Wandmayer, a planning commissioner, and Dr. George C. Ziegler, a dentist not in city government.

Zucca lamented that, "These matters are best handled at the planning commission level" and, chewing out Mrs. Sterry for bringing the controversy to the council he noted that if it's denied "there'd be nothing for us to talk about."

The council did unanimously approve Mrs. Sterry's motion to ask City Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow to ask Safeway to care for and maintain the trees and regularly care for the landscaping on its property and for the city to maintain any of them on the city right of way on Coronet. "I don't think Safeway has maintained theirs," she said.

A pair of Dr. Podolsky motions, to table the Sterry motion till the planners have considered it and to apply the request to all city property owners, died in 2-2 tie votes, with Vallerga abstaining because of his personal interest. Podolsky and Zucca voted yes on both, Mrs. Sterry and Councilman Robert H. Fitzgerald no.

Glenn E. Pollock, 23 Tioga Way, after the vote called Podolsky's motions "asinine" among other things and said, "You're trying to suggest that people against your amendments are against trees," for which he drew loud applause.

Podolsky said later he had joined the foursome in the spring before his own rezoning went through to "have a foot in the door" for a new medical office.

Bond Vote Key to New S.M. College

"Creation of three new California State College campuses in Ventura, Contra Costa and San Mateo-San Mateo-Santa Clara counties depends upon successful passage of Proposition 2 on the November ballot," Glenn S. Dumke, state college chancellor, said yesterday.

"Proposition 2, which calls for a bond issue of $230 million to create new campuses and for construction on the 18 existing campuses throughout the state, would assure the first step in the expansion program," Dumke said.

"Funds totaling $12 million from the bond issue are earmarked for site acquisition for the three new campuses," he said.

Projection studies made by the California State College planners show that ultimate full-time enrollments at the three proposed colleges would be 19,000 to 21,000 each.

"Final selection of the proposed campus sites by the board of trustees will be made following the successful passage of Proposition 2 in November," the chancellor said.

"Despite maximum utilization of existing space, facilities for 30,000 additional students must be provided over the next two years," he said, "if the state is to assure every qualified student equal opportunity for a higher education.

Frank Greeley, former national sales representative or ladies' ready-to-wear manufacturers. Frank Greeley states: "Working as a sales representative with shrinking territory and rough competition, I joined the organization on a part-time basis to augment my income. I found I could make more money than I'd ever dreamed I could earn. But in addition to my rich rewards, what I sold brought greater rewards to my customers."

Mary Bonnett, working mother of five children. Mary Bonnett states: "As a housewife and mother of a large family, it was important to my children's welfare that we obtain extra income. I started on a part-time basis and in less than six months I made the decision to devote full time to the most wonderful money opportunity I have ever found."

ALL SIGNALS ARE "GO"
FOR THE MAN WHO WANTS MANAGEMENT

Yes . . . the sky's the limit as far as management opportunities are concerned. Like the West itself, we're growing at an unprecedented rate, and, because of that growth, we've had to accelerate our management development program. For the man in the field who wants, and is qualified for management, there are three simple steps
(1) Appointment as manager (salary + commissions and override)
(2) Short but intensive indoctrination
(3) Eligibility for his "own" office fully equipped at company expense

Not everyone is equipped for management. But for the agent who is, all systems are "go" in the life, A/H division of Reserve Life Insurance Company. Call Mr. Little for confidential interview 9 a.m. to 12 noon at 593-8289 or from 6-9 p.m. at 591-7217.

POLITICAL PARADE

Daly City parents and teachers, concerned with the issue of school district unification, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parodi to hear Albert R. Beardsley, candidate for county superintendent of schools, discuss his views on the controversial Unruh Unification Act.

Presently San Carlos Superintendent of Schools and an outstanding educator for 39 years, Beardsley is recognized by opponents of mandatory unification as a leader in the campaign for local control in school district organization.

The Daly City reception was one in a series of person-to-person meetings being held in the North County to acquaint voters with Beardsley's stand on the question of school district unification.

America's universities conferred 15,300 doctoral degrees in 1964-65—twice the number conferred in 1951-52.

D.C. Man Missing With Plane

An extensive air searcr continued today for a light plane missing from San Carlos since Friday, when it was reported taken by a Daly City man, without permission.

The red and white single-engine Cessna belonged to the Flying Ten Club and was taken by Guido Nosenzo, according to club's president, Bernard Zimmer. A flight plan indicated stops at Grass Valley and Carson City, Nev. Nosenzo lives at 151 Eastmoor Aveune, Daly City.

A spokesman for the air rescue unit at Hamilton Air Force Base said 32 military and civilian planes spent 104 hours crisscrossing the Sierras from Central California to Lake Tahoe Sunday.

Two Transit Plan Information Meetings Planned for San Bruno and San Mateo

Curious about rapid transit plans for San Mateo County?

You can find out all about them at two public information meetings set by directors of the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority.

They will be held October 25 at the San Bruno City Hall and October 27, at the San Mateo City Hall, both at 8 p.m.

Directors met to hear a recommendation that the best route for a new rail rapid transit system would be along the present Southern Pacific railroad tracks from San Bruno to the Santa Clara County line.

The railroad right-of-way was one of si xroutes considered by the joint-venture team of engineers who are conducting a $190,000 study of the county's rapid transit needs.

The other five routes considered include an aerial or grade level bayside route between San Francisco Bay and the Bayshore Freeway; a depressed route immediately east of Bayshore; a grade level route in the middle of the freeway; an aerial route between the freeway and the SP tracks; and a subway route under El Camino Real.

Price tags for the routes to include construction, right-of-way, rolling stock and equipment, and engineering were: bayside, $200 million; eastside, $250 million; median, $186 million; westside, $215 million; Southern Pacific, $200 million; and El Camino, $280 million.

Directors are scheduled to narrow down choice of a specific transit corridor following the public meetings at a November 7 meeting scheduled for Room 101, County Office Building at 3:30 p.m.

Transportation Engineer James Smith said that a series of discussions with administrative and technical staffs of cities had revealed their preference for an alignment parallel to the SP tracks. He pointed out that undergrounding a transit system became less feasible closer to the Bay as engineers run into water and unstable soil conditions.

The engineers' report revealed that alignments west of El Camino or east of Bayshore Freeway would have serious disadvantages in serving either residential locations or job sites. In addition, the SP route would result in minimum disruption to the traditional pattern of land use and economic development on the Peninsula, the report states.

In answer to a question from Director Jean Fassler, Smith said a new system on the existing SP right-of-way could be elevated, at ground level, or subway.

Director Micheal DeBernardi asked for estimate of acquisition cost for SP right of way; there would be no right-of-way cost for an El Camino route.

The alternate routes discussed were all for a new computerized rail system in an exclusive grade-separated right of way. Other transit concepts that have previously been outlined to the directors include:

Plan IA—Modernizing the SP railroad service and extending the line to run to Market Street in San Francisco.

Plan IB—Improving the SP service and linking it to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) terminal in Daly City by constructing a spur to the northeast from San Bruno.

Plan II—laying wide guage, electrified tracks controlled through BART computers all the way from the terminal in Daly City to the Santa Clara County line at East Palo Alto—or south to San Jose if Santa Clara County so decides.

Plan IIIA—Extending the wide-guage BART tracks to a transfer point on the SP line at San Bruno.
